I. ASEAN SUMMIT DOCUMENTS

Chair’s Statement of the 18th ASEAN Summit

Jakarta, Indonesia, 7-8 May 2011

“ASEAN Community in a Global Community of Nations”

1. The 18th ASEAN Summit, with the theme “ASEAN Community in a Global Community of Nations,” held in Jakarta on 7-8 May 2011, was chaired by the President of the Republic of Indonesia, Dr. Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono, as the Chair of ASEAN in 2011. The Heads of State/Government of ASEAN Member States had substantive, frank and productive discussion in a plenary session and retreat session, under a new arrangement of ASEAN Summit programmes and agenda.

2. We the Heads of State/Government of ASEAN Member States, gathered in Jakarta, Indonesia, for the 18th ASEAN Summit, supported the three priorities outlined by Indonesia during its chairmanship in 2011, namely: to ensure significant progress in achieving the ASEAN Community; to ensure that the regional architecture and regional environment remain ASEAN-centered and conducive to development; and to commence deliberations on an ASEAN vision beyond 2015 namely “ASEAN Community in a Global Community of Nations”. We also agreed to work together based on those priorities to accelerate the undertakings towards the ASEAN Community in 2015 and to achieve a common platform for ASEAN beyond 2015 in Southeast Asia.

3. Inspired by and united under One Vision, One Identity, and One Caring and Sharing Community, we continue to be committed to intensify our work towards a people-oriented, people-centered and rules-based ASEAN. We will continue to encourage the participation of the peoples and other stakeholders of ASEAN in the community building process on the basis of the three pillars, namely political-security, economic and socio-cultural.

4. We agreed and adopted three joint statements as follows:
   - ASEAN Leaders’ Joint Statement on the ASEAN Community in a Global Community of Nations;
   - ASEAN Leaders’ Joint Statement on the Establishment of the ASEAN Institute for Peace and Reconciliation; and
   - ASEAN Leaders’ Joint Statement in Enhancing Cooperation against Trafficking in Persons in Southeast Asia.

ASEAN COMMUNITY-BUILDING AND IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ASEAN CHARTER

5. Encouraged by the progress in the implementation of the ASEAN Charter and Roadmap for an ASEAN Community, we provided guidance and reiterated our firm commitment to advance the ASEAN Community building process through concrete, practical and meaningful actions. We therefore underlined the need for concerted and synergized efforts in the implementation of the three Community Blueprints and decisions of this Summit.

6. We deemed it of great importance that the three Community Blueprints be integrated into national policies and programmes. We, in this connection, recommended developing yearly targeted achievements of the implementation of Community Blueprints as well as new possible cooperation towards the ASEAN Community in 2015. We tasked the ASEAN Coordinating Council (ACC) and the three Community Councils to follow up all necessary actions in developing the annual targeted achievements as well as in reviewing the Community Blueprints with the aim of ensuring that all the activities are responsive to the needs and priorities of ASEAN. As there are many cross-cutting issues that cut across all three pillars of the ASEAN Community, we underscored the importance of effective coordination on cross-cutting issues and tasked the ACC and the Secretary-General of ASEAN to monitor and encourage such coordination.

ASEAN POLITICAL SECURITY COMMUNITY (APSC)

Good Governance

7. We emphasized the importance of promoting good governance and transparency within the ASEAN Community and tasked our Ministers to explore and consider appropriate initiatives to take these principles forward.

Conflict Resolution and Conflict Management

8. Observing current geopolitical developments in the region and in the world, we pointed out the need for ASEAN to enhance its capacity to ensure greater peace, security and stability in the region, including on conflict management and resolution.

9. As a step towards that goal, we agreed to commence the process towards establishing an ASEAN Institute for Peace and Reconciliation, as stipulated in the APSC Blueprint. The institute may, inter alia, undertake relevant researches and studies, and provide counsel and recommendations to ASEAN governments on the promotion of peace and reconciliation. We therefore agreed to task our Foreign Ministers to work on the modalities towards the establishment of the institute and submit their recommendations to the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali for its consideration.

Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia (TAC)

10. The TAC has had a significant role as the key code of conduct governing inter-state relations in the region. Further upholding of the TAC would foster cooperation and understanding among...
High Contracting Parties and ensure the preservation of peace and harmony in the region. We welcomed the accession of non-ASEAN Member States to the TAC, looked forward to the accession of the EU to the TAC and took note of the continued interest of other non-ASEAN Member States to accede to the TAC. We looked forward to the effective implementation of the TAC and to review the implementation of the TAC with the view to enhancing its effectiveness.

Peacekeeping and Post-Conflict Peace Building Missions

11. We encouraged the establishment of a network among existing peacekeeping centres in ASEAN Member States to conduct joint planning, training, and sharing of experiences with a view to establishing an ASEAN arrangement for the maintenance of peace and stability. We agreed that this effort would strengthen the vital role of ASEAN Member States in supporting the effective peacekeeping and peace-building efforts of the UN. We are encouraged that the AMM and the ADMM is undertaking concrete steps to realize this objective.

ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF)

12. We recognized the importance of the ARF in promoting dialogue on security issues, cooperation on issues of mutual interest and confidence-building measures and pursuing efforts towards preventive diplomacy in the region and as playing a central role in the regional security architecture. We looked forward to closer cooperation and development of synergies between the ARF and other ASEAN-centered arrangements in the region such as the ASEAN Defence Ministers’ Meeting Plus (ADMM Plus).

ASEAN Defence Ministers’ Meeting (ADMM) and ADMM Plus

13. We welcomed progress made in the defence dialogue and cooperation under the ADMM framework to promote peace and stability, and noted with satisfaction the progress in implementing the outcomes of the 1st ASEAN Defence Ministers’ Meeting Plus in October 2010 in Ha Noi, Viet Nam.

14. We encouraged the ADMM to enhance dialogue on how they can effectively support efforts in building confidence in the region. There would thus be significant value-added to ADMM efforts at interoperability in this area, given their existing efforts at enhancing interoperability in humanitarian assistance and disaster relief. We looked forward to the convening of the fifth ADMM in Jakarta this May, as well as the Three-Year Work Plan (2011-2013) to be adopted at the ADMM.

Maritime Issues

15. Maritime-related issues have become more prominent, due to the increasing interdependency of the global economy as well as the threat of sea piracy and armed robbery at sea. In this regard, we affirmed our commitment to addressing maritime issues comprehensively, particularly the issues that need our immediate attention, including, peaceful, safe, free and lawful navigation, protection of marine environment and biodiversity resources, and cooperation on search and rescue at sea.

16. We underlined the need to empower and utilize the ASEAN Maritime Forum (AMF) as a forum for discussing ways of ensuring the safety and security of our seas for the welfare of the peoples of ASEAN, as well as to provide solutions to problems arising from maritime-related issues. With the successful convening of the 1st AMF last year in Indonesia, we looked forward to the convening of the 2nd AMF in Thailand later this year.

Transnational Crimes (TNC)

18. We acknowledged with satisfaction ASEAN cooperation on counter-terrorism. We welcomed the imminent entry into force later this month of the ASEAN Convention on Counter-Terrorism (ACCT) and ratification of the ACCT by all ASEAN Member States. We reemphasized the importance of working towards acceding and ratifying the relevant international instruments on counter terrorism. We agreed to continue promoting the effective implementation of the ASEAN Comprehensive Plan of Action on Counter Terrorism and to develop initiatives aimed at addressing the root causes of terrorism and conditions that are conducive to terrorism and to promote cooperation on de-radicalization and interfaith dialogues. We expressed the view that these efforts would also contribute to the implementation of the UN Global Counter Terrorism Strategy.

19. We expressed concern at the increasing cases of trafficking in persons and people smuggling in the region and tasked our Ministers in charge of Transnational Crimes to accelerate the consideration of an ASEAN Convention on Trafficking in Persons. We stressed that victims of trafficking, mainly vulnerable women and children, have a fundamental right to be protected in accordance with the international law and relevant international conventions. We acknowledged with appreciation the work of the Bali Process on People Smuggling, Trafficking in Persons and Related Transnational Crime, which specified concrete actions to mitigate the problems of irregular movement of people, in particular people smuggling and trafficking in persons. We agreed to enhance further cooperation within existing frameworks and instruments which are consistent with national laws and regulations.

20. We recognized the need for greater regional coordination on anti-drug efforts given the cross-border and transnational nature of illegal drug activities. In order to meet the vision of a Drug-Free ASEAN by 2015, we highlighted the need to fully and effectively implement the ASEAN Work Plan on Combating Illicit Drug Production, Trafficking, and Use for 2009-2015 through the conduct of specific programs and activities.

Southeast Asia Nuclear Weapon-Free Zone (SEANWFZ)

21. We agreed to continue pursuing international efforts to achieve a nuclear-weapons-free world; therefore, we intend to foster cooperation among the Nuclear Weapon Free Zones (NWFZs).
to fully implement the principles and objectives of the treaties. We reiterated the importance of the early implementation of the Plan of Action on the implementation of the SEANWFZ Treaty, including through the continued efforts to consult nuclear weapons states on outstanding issues with a view to getting their signing of to the SEANWFZ Protocol.

22. We welcomed all efforts at regional and international levels to promote nuclear disarmament, nuclear non-proliferation, and peaceful uses of nuclear energy. We reaffirmed the need to advance towards the priority goal of nuclear disarmament and the achievement of the total elimination and legally binding prohibition of nuclear weapons. In this regard, we stressed that the establishment of NWFZs is a major contribution to non-proliferation efforts and encouraged dialogue and appropriate interaction between the SEANWFZ and other NWFZ in order to share experiences and best practices that would help contribute to attaining the above goals.

Regional Cooperation on Nuclear Safety

23. We expressed sympathy and solidarity with Japan over the Fukushima incident and noted the potential trans-boundary impact of accidents at nuclear installations. We agreed that ASEAN should engage as appropriate in information-sharing and promote transparency on relevant nuclear related issues in the region. ASEAN should also promote and uphold IAEA standards of safety and security in the development of civilian nuclear energy.

24. While pledging to support the IAEA’s efforts to strengthen the global nuclear safety framework, we agreed to develop a coordinated ASEAN approach that would contribute to global undertakings to improve nuclear safety, in cooperation with the IAEA and other relevant partners as well as with other regional arrangements such as the Asian Nuclear Safety Network (ANSN).

ASEAN Inter-Governmental Commission on Human Rights (AICHR)

25. We welcomed the progress of the work of AICHR as the overarching body of ASEAN for the promotion and protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms in accordance with the ASEAN Charter, namely the implementation of AICHR’s priority program 2010-2011, the Guidelines of Operations of AICHR, and the progress in the drafting of the Terms of Reference of AICHR Drafting Group for ASEAN Human Rights Declaration. We also looked forward to the finalization of a Five-Year Work Plan of the AICHR.

Biennial Review of the APSC Blueprint

26. We emphasized the importance of better coordination among different sectoral bodies under the APSC and commended the report of the Chairman of the APSC Council to the 18th ASEAN Summit. We also noted that the APSC Blueprint stipulates a biennial review and evaluation to ensure that all the activities are relevant, responsive and meaningful to the attainment of the goals and objectives of the ASEAN Political-Security Community. We noted that to this end, the Coordinating Conference for the ASEAN Political-Security Community (APSC) was instructed by the APSC Council to undertake necessary steps to conduct such review and evaluation, in coordination with the ASEAN Secretariat and the Committee of Permanent Representatives (CPR) to ASEAN.

ASEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY (AEC)

27. We welcomed the report of the ASEAN Economic Community Council on the implementation of the AEC Blueprint, which is expected to complete the second phase of implementation (covering the period 2010-2011) this year.

28. We reiterated our commitment to exert maximum effort and ensure timely implementation of the AEC Blueprint measures. This would include addressing regulatory issues in implementing intra and extra-ASEAN commitments, as well as strengthening our respective national coordination to effectively implement our AEC commitments across various ministries and agencies.

29. We took note of the commencement of the Mid-Term Review of the AEC Blueprint that will assess the effectiveness and contribution of the implementation of the AEC Blueprint to economic growth, employment, competitiveness, and social welfare within ASEAN.

30. We recognized the importance of enhancing the regional monitoring capacity to ensure the timely implementation of our economic integration initiatives. We welcomed the setting up of the ASEAN Integration Monitoring Office (AIMO) to support the ASEAN Secretariat in monitoring the progress of the AEC.

31. Recognizing the various characteristics of ASEAN Member States and the importance of an appropriate scoring mechanism reflective of the achievements made by ASEAN towards the realization of the ASEAN Economic Community in 2015, we look forward to the completion of a comprehensive scoring system.

Services and Investment

32. We noted the greater mobility of skilled labor facilitated through Mutual Recognition Arrangements (MRAs) and reaffirmed our commitment to the full implementation of all ASEAN MRAs. We also welcomed the substantial progress made in the liberalization of trade in services under the ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services (AFAS). We looked forward to the implementation of the ASEAN Comprehensive Investment Agreement (ACIA) at the earliest possible time.

Food, Energy, and Water Security

33. We have discussed the challenges of food and energy security as well as the volatility of food and energy prices, especially with regard to short and longer-term responses. We agree to enhance existing ASEAN priorities based on programs that increase productivity and production, coordinate in policies regarding pricing, stocks, export and import as well as alleviate the impact on the poor. We instructed Ministers to follow up and prioritize the existing programs based on these principles, and to also propose new ideas and concrete actions by the next Summit.
34. Being cognizant of the recent sharp increase in food prices, we agreed to prioritize research and development as well as encouraging greater investment in food industry towards a comprehensive implementation of the ASEAN Integrated Food Security Framework.

35. While eagerly anticipating the signing of the ASEAN Plus Three Emergency Rice Reserve (APTERR) later this year, we requested relevant Ministers to look at the possibility of incorporating commodities other than rice within the APTERR mechanism. We were of the opinion that APTERR should not only be limited to secure stock in case of emergency but also to support countries in vulnerable position as a result of food price volatility and surge in food demand. We also underscored the importance of a coordinated food policy in the region, which shall cover among others trade information, stocks and demand, prices, and logistics.

36. While recognizing the continued progress in implementing the ASEAN Plan of Action on Energy Cooperation 2010-2015, we accepted that more concrete and action-oriented programs are necessary to boost energy efficiency and conservation in the region. We stressed again our determination to reduce dependence on oil and other fossil fuels, and to find viable renewable sources of energy.

37. Recalling the commitment to reduce green house gas emission, we encouraged all stakeholders in the region to embrace smart energy management in their economic activities. We also tasked our relevant Ministers to expedite the realization of ASEAN Power Grid and to find affordable and stable sources of energy in rural areas.

Equitable Economic Development

38. Mindful of the fact that no segment of the society should be left out from the benefits of ASEAN’s economic integration, more emphasis should be given on realizing ASEAN as a region of equitable economic development. We welcomed the discussions that have been initiated among Ministers on ways to further enhance, in parallel, the Third Pillar of the ASEAN Economic Community Blueprint; that is, Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (SMEs) development and the narrowing of development gaps amongst and with ASEAN Member States.

39. For ASEAN SMEs to benefit from economic integration in 2015, we must enable them to compete in the free market system. In this regard, ASEAN SMEs must have better access to technology, market, and especially financing, through financial inclusion programme.

40. Building on this, we task our Ministers to enhance its existing work programme with stronger commitment and develop a Framework/Guiding Principles for Equitable Economic Development, which should include new elements of high-impact targets and quick wins, and goes beyond 2015. We resolved to intensify our efforts at implementing initiatives under IAI, including by engaging Dialogue Partners and Development Partners in our efforts to bridge the development gap. We welcomed the successful outcome of the 3rd IAI Development Cooperation Forum (IDCF-3).

Macroeconomic Coordination and Financial Cooperation

41. We noted that the global economy continues to recover but at different paces. We further noted that the region has continued to lead the recovery but there are downside risks of rising inflationary pressure and rapid inflow of capital. In view of this development, we emphasised the importance of complementing the domestic macroeconomic policy with regional macroeconomic coordination and financial cooperation, and accordingly tasked relevant Ministers to continue such efforts. We look forward to the full of operation of the ASEAN Plus Three Macro Economic Regional Surveillance Office (AMRO) in Singapore, which is expected to play a crucial role in strengthening macro economic coordination and promoting financial cooperation at the regional level. We were pleased with the entry into force of the Chiang-Mai Initiative Multilateralisation (CMIM) Agreement on 24 March 2010.

43. We took note of the progress on the work of the four ASEAN Plus Working Groups that were tasked to look into the recommendations in the Studies on the East Asia Free Trade Area (EAFTA) and the Comprehensive Economic Partnership in East Asia (CEPEA) in parallel. To ensure and strengthen ASEAN centrality in its objectives to promote partnership with wider region, we tasked the officials to intensify efforts to accelerate the process of consolidating ASEAN’s Plus One FTAs by identifying the gaps and making a recommendation for a possible modality, using the ASEAN Plus One FTAs as the building blocks and the basis for the evolving ASEAN-centred regional architecture.

44. We welcomed the adoption of the Brunei Action Plan (BAP)/ASEAN Strategic Transport Plan (ASTP) 2011–2015 by the ASEAN Transport Ministers to provide the main reference guiding ASEAN transport cooperation and integration over the next five years. The BAP identifies strategic actions to be implemented to support the realization of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) by 2015 as well as the new priority of enhancing regional connectivity identified in the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC).

ASEAN Tourism

45. We noted with pleasure the development of the ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan (ATSP) 2011-2015, which is the successor of the Roadmap for the Integration of the Tourism Sector 2005-2010 that will promote the region as a single tourist destination, develop a set of ASEAN tourism standards with a certification process, enable tourism professionals to work in any of the ASEAN Member States and facilitate visitors to travel throughout ASEAN with a single visa.
World Trade Organization

46. We upheld the primacy of the multilateral trading system, embodied in the WTO, where a stable, transparent, inclusive, and rules-based structure has facilitated global trade and served ASEAN well in our own efforts towards regional economic integration. We reaffirm, as a priority, our commitment to support and strengthen this valuable system which has helped to maintain trade flows, monitor the global trading environment, and keep protectionism in check during the recent global financial crisis. We see the Doha Development Agenda as an indispensable part of the necessary improvement of the multilateral trading system, representing gains for the entire WTO membership. We call on all Members to work constructively towards a balanced conclusion of the Round as a priority and shoulder common responsibility to the multilateral trading system.

47. We reiterated our support for the accession of Lao PDR to WTO at the earliest time possible.

ASEAN Single Window

50. We reaffirmed our commitment to enhance trade facilitation by promoting trade efficiency and competitiveness through the full implementation of National Single Window across all ASEAN countries as a prerequisite to establishing ASEAN Single Window that would be one of the key elements to achieving the ASEAN Economic Community by 2015. We reaffirmed our commitments to fully operationalize National Single Window no later than 2012 and to accelerate the establishment of ASEAN Single Window.

ASEAN Economic Vision Beyond 2015

51. While initiatives and actions are taken to ensure the realization of ASEAN integration by 2015, we should not lose sight of what we envision of ASEAN beyond 2015. It is especially crucial at this juncture to think of what ASEAN will be after 2015.

52. Our work these days and our expectations of how things will evolve may inspire us to think of ASEAN beyond 2015 which is competitive, fairly equal, inclusive, green, sustainable and resilient. Noting that there remain different levels of development among and within Member States, and the consolidation of regional economic integration will continue internally and with ASEAN’s strategic partners, we may think of adopting multi-track and multi-speed approaches to deepening economic integration among ASEAN Member States and its Dialogue Partners. We may instruct Ministers to develop such an idea and report back to us when we meet in November this year.

We noted the willingness of the Asian Disaster Preparedness Center (ADPC) in Thailand to work with partners to do a regional stock take of HADR facilities and capabilities in the region.

60. Following the Special ASEAN-Japan Ministerial Meeting in April 2011, we emphasized the need to further strengthen existing disaster management cooperation under the various regional mechanisms, including ASEAN Plus Three, EAS, ARF, and ADMM Plus, as well as periodic holding of Disaster Relief Exercises. We look forward to further progress and developments in the near future, and therefore support the Chairmanship of Indonesia in the 9th ALAWMM in 2013.

ASEAN Visa Cooperation

36. We reaffirmed our commitment to continue and accelerate the easing of visa requirements for ASEAN nationals through the full implementation of the 2006 ASEAN Framework Agreement for Visa Exemption. We noted the importance of the initiative to develop an ASEAN common visa for non-ASEAN nationals in the future to our ASEAN Community building process, as well as to ASEAN’s greater integration and contribution to the global community. Therefore, we tasked the relevant Ministers to undertake a comprehensive study to identify the necessary time line towards the establishment of an ASEAN common visa for submission to the 23rd ASEAN Summit for its consideration.

Civil Service Matters

37. We noted the finalization of the ASEAN Plus Three Conference on Civil Service Matters (ACCSCM) Work Plan (2012-2015) and the Rules of Procedure for the ACCSCM+3 Joint Technical Working Group following the adoption of the Luang Prabang Joint Declaration on ASEAN Plus Three Civil Service Cooperation by the ASEAN+3 Heads of Civil Service last year.

Biennial Review of the APSC Blueprint

38. We are pleased with the outcomes of the biennial review of the APSC Blueprint and welcome the progress achieved for the timely establishment of the ASEAN Community by 2015. We also recognize the need to accelerate further the implementation of the remaining action plans of the political-security community blueprints and task the relevant ministerial bodies to work closely under the coordination of the ASEAN Political Security Community Council. We task the Chairs of related sectoral bodies to ensure the collaborative implementation of the APSC Blueprint.

ASEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY

39. We welcome the deliberation of the bi-annual report on the achievement made in the ASEAN Economic Community Blueprint namely the AEC Scorecard. The evaluation results shall remain as a main guide in tracking progress in realizing an ASEAN Economic Community. In this regard, we further urge the development of the mentioned evaluation taking into account the real conditions of advancement based on different economic conditions in each ASEAN Member State.

40. We were pleased to note that the ASEAN Economic Ministers have continued an extensive public-private partnership this year, notably with the convening the ASEAN-EU Business Summit, and ASEAN Business and Investment Summit respectively, as sideline events of the 18th and 19th ASEAN Summit. We look forward to the continued efforts in advancing public-private partnership among ASEAN Member States and with non-ASEAN countries to enable all stakeholders to enjoy the full benefits of the ASEAN Economic Community.

ASEAN Framework for Equitable Economic Development

41. We underscored that all segments of society should benefit from ASEAN’s economic integration. To this end, we have elaborated on the third pillar of the ASEAN Economic Community Blueprint by issuing the ASEAN Framework for Equitable Economic Development as a means to direct our efforts. We are committed to ensure that equitable development helps set our agenda so that our population benefits from the economic integration and cooperation. We recognize that equitable development is one key element of our vision for ASEAN beyond 2015.

42. We reaffirmed our commitment to the ongoing efforts of supporting equitable development including the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC), Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI), ASEAN Policy Blueprint for SME Development (APBSD) and ASEAN Strategic Action Plan for SME Development, ASEAN Integrated Food Security (AIFS) Framework, ASEAN Plus Three Emergency Rice Reserve (APTERR) and Sub-Regional Cooperation arrangements within ASEAN.

43. We agreed to enhance ASEAN cooperation to support and promote equitable development. We tasked our Ministers to explore new and innovative initiatives that will boost access to finance and the financial security of our people throughout the region and enhance economic activities by:

- Convening an ASEAN forum to develop best practices and exchange of information among ASEAN Member States on financial inclusion. This initiative will be launched through a dedicated conference in 2012. This will start the process of developing ASEAN best practices and consideration in the development of a concrete financial inclusion programme that would support ASEAN Member States in strengthening or establishing national plans for access to finance.
- Improving regional cooperation and commitment to improve flows of remittances. In this regard, we task the relevant Ministers to convene a dedicated forum to discuss best practices in this area including through the consideration of the General Principles of International Remittance Services, and report the progress to the 21st ASEAN Summit.

44. We therefore welcome Singapore’s extension of its contributions to the Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI) from 2012 to 2015, with a fourth pledge totaling $50 million, to assist in the achievement of the ASEAN Community in 2015.

ASEAN Framework for Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership

45. Recognizing the benefits of sound and sustainable economic relations with partner countries, we reinforced our commitment to maintain the centrality and proactive role of ASEAN in relation to external parties. We welcome the ASEAN Framework for Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership that establishes an ASEAN-led process by setting out principles under which ASEAN will broaden and deepen its engagement with FTA/CEPT partners and subsequently with other external economic partners towards a regional comprehensive economic partnership agreement. This agreement includes trade in goods, trade in services, and investment as well as other areas related to trade, investment and economic cooperation. We envisage that this partnership agreement will provide a framework under which ASEAN and its external partners can address trade and investment issues that may emerge in the future.

46. We tasked relevant Ministers to develop a work plan to realize the goals set out in the ASEAN Framework for Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership. To support these efforts, we agreed to the establishment of three Working Groups in the areas of Trade in Goods, Trade in Services and Investment to define the specific principles and a template under which ASEAN will engage with partners. The Working Group on Trade in Goods will follow up on the outcome of the ASEAN Plus Working Groups on Rules of Origin, Tariff Nomenclature and Customs Procedures. Other working groups can be established based on the specific requirements as decided by the Ministers. The existing ASEAN Plus Working Group on Economic Cooperation will support the work of these groups by defining how economic cooperation will ensure that all ASEAN Member States benefit from economic partnership in the areas of engagement. The ASEAN Economic Community Council shall report the progress of this endeavor at the 20th ASEAN Summit.

ASEAN Single Window

47. We welcome the exercise of the ASEAN Single Window pilot project in the third quarter of 2011. We believe it to be a breakthrough in realizing our commitment to enhance regional trade facilitation by promoting trade efficiency and competitiveness. We reaffirm our commitment to fully implement the National Single Window no later than 2012 and to accelerate the establishment of an ASEAN Single Window.

ASEAN Economic Initiatives

48. We look forward to an early conclusion of the 8th ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services (AFAS) Package commitment, and to a substantive outcome of the development of the ASEAN Agreement on Movement of Natural Persons in facilitating movement of peoples engaged in trade in goods, services, and investment. We also welcome the decision to develop a plan to expedite full implementation of the ASEAN Mutual Recognition Arrangements (MRAs).

49. Creating a beneficial investment area is a profound objective of ASEAN’s economic integration. We are therefore pleased with the timely finalization of the ASEAN Comprehensive Investment Agreement (ACIA). We also welcome the decision of the ASEAN Economic Ministers to intensify their engagement with the private sector and academicians. We are of the view that this kind of engagement will prove beneficial to expand ASEAN’s economic integration to all stakeholders.

50. We welcome the convening of the first ASEAN Investment Forum (AIF) attended by delegations of the ASEAN Heads of Investment Agencies in Bali on 16 November 2011, which was very useful for exchange of ideas and experiences on the implementation of the recent concept and practice of investment. AIF is an important step in enhancing the institutional aspect of Investment Agency in ASEAN within the ASEAN Economic Community 2015.

51. We appreciate the report of the Government of Indonesia-ERIA-Harvard Symposium on “Moving the ASEAN Community Forward into 2015 and Beyond”, which provides creative ideas for a competitive, dynamic, inclusive, sustainable, and globally engaged ASEAN beyond 2015. The “Jakarta Framework” which was presented to the Chairman of ASEAN will add value to the discussion to establish the ASEAN Economic Community by 2015 and beyond.

52. We welcomed the Statement of the ERIA’s 4th Governing Board Meeting issued on 3rd June 2011 and its work plan identifying its direction to undertake research and policy recommendation to establish a dynamic, resilient, competitive and sustainable regional community, and commend ERIA for its intensified contribution to the acceleration of regional integration in ASEAN and East Asia. Encourage ERIA to continuously provide support to the Summit activities of ASEAN and East Asia through its expertise on regional issues.

ASEAN Mekong Basin Development Cooperation (AMBDC)

53. We highly appreciate the convening of the 13th AMBDC Ministerial Meeting in Manado, Indonesia, as a forum to promote sustainable development of the Mekong basin region. We have always valued sub-regional cooperation as building blocks for further regional integration. We noted the recommendations made to align the Singapore-Kunming Rail Link (SKRL) project with activities of the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC) and task the relevant Ministerial Bodies to re-double efforts in the implementation of activities under the AMBDC projects.

ASEAN Strategic Transport Plan (ASTP)

54. We were delighted to note the progress in implementing the Brunei Action Plan/ASEAN Strategic Transport Plan (2011–2015) by the relevant sectoral bodies in strengthening the competitiveness of the ASEAN Economic Community as well as expediting the realization of the ASEAN Connectivity.

ASEAN Tourism

55. We appreciate the effort of the tourism sector to implement the ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan (ATSP) 2011–2015, including the reform of its working groups in order to organize the strategic directions in developing experiential and innovative regional products and creative marketing and investment strategies, increasing the quality of human resources, services and facilities in the region as well as enhancing and accelerating travel facilitation and ASEAN Connectivity.

Food, Water and Energy Security

56. We reflected how our present and future activities will impact the interests and quality of life of our children. Along this line, we reemphasized that food, water and energy security shall remain critical to the welfare of our people and to our policies in maintaining a resilient and competitive region.

57. We believe that at this juncture, ASEAN must continue playing an active role in laying down the path for long term programmes in securing access of our peoples to food and water. As such, we call for enhanced research and development in the agriculture sector, a more coordinated food policy in the region, and greater investment in the agriculture sector.

58. We are committed to make food security one of our highest priorities in our development programmes. We are of the view that agricultural policies need to be reevaluated both at the national, regional and global level. There is an urgent need to increase efforts at the national, regional and international level in mainstreaming food security and sustainable agriculture development as an integral part of the national, regional and global development agenda. We further commit to take measures in order to capitalize limited natural resources.

59. We therefore welcome the adoption of the ASEAN Plus Three Emergency Rice Reserve (APTEUR) at the ASEAN Ministers Meeting on Agriculture and Forestry in Jakarta last October. We look forward to the entry into force of the APTEUR Agreement at the earliest possible time, and task our relevant Ministers to study the possibility of APTEUR incorporating commodities other than rice to secure the alarming risk of food price volatility.

60. We agreed to reinforce our collective efforts to promote sustainable usage and management of water resources in the region. We acknowledged further the importance of promoting sustainability of water resources in the region to ensure the interest of the people of ASEAN, including people living along the Mekong River and the riparian countries.
61. We are conscious, with respect to the energy sector, of the region’s high dependence on fossil fuels and the volatility of fuel prices in the world market. We underscored our determination to maintain high economic growth, to find viable alternative and renewable energy resources as well as to increase energy efficiency and conservation. We also noted with pleasure the adoption of the ASEAN Plus Three Comprehensive Strategy on Food Security and Bio Energy Development that includes the Strategic Plan of Action on Food and Energy Security (SPA-FES) 2011-2015. This initiative further highlights the commitment of ASEAN Plus Three to prioritize synergies in both food and energy sectors.

62. We stressed again our determination to ensure electricity access to all of our people as this initiative provides valuable incentives for economic activities throughout the region. Apart from expediting the realization of an ASEAN Power Grid, we must continue to find stable and reliable sources of energy for rural areas. To this end, we seek to strengthen collaboration with our Dialogue Partners. We also recognized the importance of engaging the private sector and other interested stakeholders. We therefore welcome the current development of ASEAN Plan of Action on Energy Cooperation (APECO) 2010-2015 and look forward to an enhanced cooperation in the energy sector beyond 2015.

63. We commended ERIA’s contribution to the strengthening of energy cooperation in the region through research studies and policy recommendations in key areas such as energy outlook, emergency response, enhancing the efficient and clean use of existing fossil fuel, promoting biofuels and other renewable energy, improving electricity infrastructure, improving nuclear power safety cooperation and the consideration of developing smart communities.

64. Energy security is one of the challenges of our time that needs to be addressed through the promotion of clean energy and suitable energy policy to enable ASEAN Member States to increase their efficiencies and promote economic growth. We, therefore, must gradually depart from the utilization of fossil fuels as primary energy sources to new energy sources and supplies that are clean and renewable. In this regard, we need to construct stronger and comprehensive cooperation on the transformation of the current energy system toward the path of a more secure, reliable and environmentally sustainable mechanism. This process requires the role of renewable and sustainable energy sources as ASEAN’s potential asset in the future.

Macroeconomic Coordination and Financial Cooperation

65. We were pleased with the performance of the region’s economy, due to strong domestic demand, coupled with sound macroeconomic management. We were concerned at the current fragility of the global economy, due in particular to continued uncertainty in Europe and a slow recovery in the United States, but expressed confidence in our ability and the ability of the ASEAN-led process to weather the current situation. We noted with satisfaction the role of the private sector in maintaining the growth of our economies through their expanded private investment. We recognized that the surge in capital flows, inflationary pressures, and commodity price volatility has the potential to destabilize our economies. Against these challenges, we are determined to expand the appropriate macroeconomic policy and macro-prudential measures as well as strengthen coordinated responses.

66. We welcome the progress towards integrating our financial market by 2015. We were also pleased with the progress reached in the development of an ASEAN Investment Fund (AIF). We were of the view that ASEAN should continue its involvement and contribution to attain a sustainable and balanced growth in Asia. To this end, we look forward to the full operation of the Credit Guarantee and Investment Facility (CGIF) as a promising mechanism for private sectors to secure long-term funding through local bond markets. We were also pleased to learn about the continued contribution of the Asian Bond Market Initiative (ABMI) in supporting investment and stabilizing the capital market.

67. We endorse our Ministers’ decision to continue enlisting private knowledge and expertise in the region to help realizing financial integration. Along this line, we are encouraged with an enhanced collaboration between our financial officials and ASEAN+3 Research Group. We also acknowledge the vital role played by ASEAN+3 Macroeconomic Research Office (AMRO) in assisting the Chiang Mai Initiative Multilateralization (CMIM) to analyze the regional economy and detect risks. In this respect, we look forward to a stronger collaboration between the CMIM, ASEAN+3 Research Group, and other relevant parties to have an early warning system, detect and prevent future crisis. We noted further the importance of improving cooperation in international remittance to reduce cost of transfer of money among ASEAN Member States.

151. We reaffirmed our full support for the Middle East peace process, based on the relevant United Nations resolutions, the terms of reference of the Madrid Conference, including the principle of land for peace, the Arab Peace Initiative adopted by the Council of the League of Arab States at its 14th Session, and the Quartet Roadmap to a permanent two-State solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, and for the existing agreements between the Israeli and Palestinian sides. APEC has played a significant role in the growth of the region’s trade and investment and must endeavor to continue to do so. We welcome the role of the ASEAN Caucus in APEC and encouraged it to continue with its constructive role.

Millennium Development Goals (MDGs)

157. We noted with concern that the attainment of the MDGs in 2015 may not be fully achieved due to the global financial and economic crises. We therefore emphasized the urgencies of faithful implementation of international commitments on development cooperation and that global commitment towards reforms as well as strong, equitable and sustainable growth is even more strengthened.

158. We welcome the finalization of the ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs by the ASCC Council as a framework for collective actions to support the efforts of ASEAN Member States to accelerate the achievement of the MDGs, through five key actors namely advocacy and linkages, knowledge, resources, expertise, and regional cooperation and regional public goods. We call upon ASEAN Member States to strengthen their collaboration in implementing the Roadmap to narrow the development gaps within and among ASEAN Member States. We also instruct all relevant ASEAN sectoral bodies to implement the Roadmap in timely manner and encourage for inter-sectoral collaboration in addressing cross-cutting issues of the MDGs.

World Trade Organization (WTO)

159. As strong supporters of the multilateral trading system, we reaffirm our commitment to the primacy of the WTO. The stable, transparent, inclusive, and rules-based structure of the WTO forms the backbone of global trade, and plays a significant role in ASEAN’s regional economic integration efforts. We reaffirm our priority in supporting and strengthening the WTO, which has helped to maintain and enhance trade flows, monitor the global trading environment, and keep protectionism in check. The WTO’s role in safeguarding global trade from protectionism is even more significant in light of the challenging global macro-economic conditions. We stress that all forms of trade protectionism should be rejected, so that our markets remain open to provide the conditions most conducive to growth.

160. While disappointed that the Doha Development Agenda (DDA) cannot conclude this year with the current approach, we remain committed to the effort to improve the multilateral trading system which represents gains for all Members. We recognize that it is the responsibility of every WTO Member to consider new and alternative ways to deliver a successful outcome, building upon the work already done and preserving the mandate.

161. We reiterated our support for expediting the accession of Lao PDR to the WTO at the earliest time possible, with a particular emphasis on its development and financial needs.

Conference on Sustainable Development (Rio + 20)

162. We recalled the agreement by the 64th UN General Assembly to convene the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development in 2012 in Brazil. The conference will raise two main themes namely green economy in the context of sustainable development and poverty eradication and the institutional framework for sustainable development. We are aware of the importance of this conference since it is in line with ASEAN’s effort to eradicate poverty and to maintain sustainable development in the region. The success of these efforts will be fundamental in supporting ASEAN’s work to attain the MDGs. In this regard, we reiterated our strong commitment and active contribution in supporting the success of this conference.

UN Security Council (UNSC)

163. We underscore the need to further advance reforms of the UN Security Council (UNSC) to make the Council more representative, accountable, and effective. We stressed the importance of the ongoing discussions and negotiation process in the UN General Assembly on all five key issues: categories of membership, the question of the veto held by the five permanent members, regional representation, the size of an enlarged Council and its working methods, the Security Council-General Assembly relationship. We recognized the need to achieve the widest possible political acceptance on UN Security Council reform.

OTHER ISSUES

Global Movement of Moderates

165. We welcome the initiative to establish a Global Movement of the Moderates (GMM) as an important approach to address extremism, with a view to reclaim the centre and moral high ground of moderates. We believe that GMM will complement existing regional and international inter-faith and intra-faith consultative forums as well as other bridge-building initiatives in our efforts to contribute to global peace and stability.

166. We look forward to the ASEAN Chairmanship of Cambodia in 2012 and expressed our full support for its undertakings towards the attainment of the ASEAN Community, the maintenance of peace, stability and prosperity in the wider region, as well as ASEAN’s greater role in the global community of nations.

ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goals

Bali, Indonesia, 17 November 2011

I. INTRODUCTION

The primary goal of the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC) is to contribute to realising an ASEAN Community that is people-centred and socially responsible with a view to building an inclusive and cohesive society where the well-being, livelihood and welfare of the peoples are enhanced. The ASCC is also focusing on the social dimension of narrowing the development gap among ASEAN Member States. ASEAN, through its sectoral bodies, is working towards achieving this goal by implementing the ASCC Blueprint (2009-2015) adopted at the 14th ASEAN Summit on 1 March 2009 in Cha-am Hua Hin, Thailand. The ASCC Blueprint envisages the following characteristics: human development; social welfare and protection; social justice and rights; ensuring environmental sustainability; building the ASEAN identity; and narrowing the development gap.

The Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) mirror ASEAN’s commitment to building a caring and sharing Community by 2015. The MDGs also present a set of goals and targets for improving wellbeing and reducing poverty in its broadest sense that are in line with the purposes of ASEAN. As stated in Article 1 of the ASEAN Charter, the purposes of ASEAN include: (a) to alleviate poverty and narrow the development gap within ASEAN through mutual assistance and cooperation; (b) to promote sustainable development so as to ensure, among others, the high quality of life of its peoples; (c) to develop human resources through closer cooperation in education and lifelong learning; and (d) to enhance the well-being and livelihood of the peoples of ASEAN by providing them with equitable access to opportunities for human development, social welfare and justice. ASEAN’s commitment to assist ASEAN Member States in accelerating the achievement of the MDGs has been reflected in a number of Statements/ Declarations and major ASEAN documents issued by the Leaders and Ministers. Embedded in the Vientiane Action Programme 2004-2010, the ASEAN Leaders set the goal of accelerating the goal of poverty reduction within the framework of the MDGs. At the 12th ASEAN Summit in January 2007, the ASEAN Leaders agreed to strengthen efforts to achieve common goals of eradicating poverty and hunger in ASEAN.

Subsequently, the ASEAN Leaders called for, among others, the development and implementation of a Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs as a framework for collective actions among ASEAN Member States to accelerate the achievement of the MDGs. This will focus on five key factors, namely advocacy and linkages, knowledge, resources, expertise, and regional cooperation and regional public goods. This commitment is expressed on the Joint Declaration on the Attainment of the MDGs in ASEAN adopted at the 14th ASEAN Summit on 1 March 2009 in Cha-am Hua Hin, Thailand (see ANNEX 1).

The ASCC Blueprint also recognises the need to develop and implement an ASEAN Roadmap towards realising the MDGs in consultation among concerned sectoral bodies with a view to identify and extend technical assistance required in the field of poverty reduction.

Overall, ASEAN Member States have made remarkable progress towards the full achievement of the MDGs. Some ASEAN Member States have adopted additional goals and targets specific to their own particular circumstances. However, there are still significant challenges that need to be overcome in achieving the MDGs in a timely and integrative manner. A particular challenge is narrowing the development gaps within the region. Issues of poverty are multidimensional and therefore will have to be addressedconcertedly if ASEAN is to successfully narrow the development gaps.

A research initiative entitled “Poverty Reduction and Social Development in ASEAN: Towards an ASEAN Roadmap for the Implementation of the MDGs Plus” was undertaken by the ASEAN Secretariat in 2008 with the support of the Australian Government. The study identified the progress, common challenges, lessons learnt and good practices of ASEAN Member States in attaining the MDGs. The study also recommended a set of collective actions that ASEAN as a group could consider in supporting the development agenda of ASEAN Member States which partly are encapsulated in their national MDGs. The study findings were based on literature research and inputs from ASEAN Member States provided through the national consultations of the project consultants with relevant government officials. Consultations with the relevant ASEAN bodies on the study findings were also undertaken during and after the Regional Workshop held on 28-29 April 2008 in Bangkok, Thailand. The results and recommendations of this study were taken into consideration in the development of this Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs.

Acting on the ASEAN Leaders’ Declaration on the Attainment of the MDGs in ASEAN, a Regional Workshop was convened on 24-25 January 2011 in Bangkok, Thailand, to consider the format and content of the ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs. This Workshop has taken into account the recommendations of the above-mentioned 2008 study and the existing sectoral work programmes which may have relevance to the Member States’ efforts in achieving the MDGs. The Roadmap was expected to facilitate closer inter-sectoral cooperation as the MDGs are multi-dimensional. The Regional Workshop was attended by the Representatives of SOMRDPE, SOM-ED, ACW, SOMSWD, SOMHD, AHSOM, ATFOA, ASEON, SOMDP and SOM-AMAF.

II. OBJECTIVES

This ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs aims at facilitating closer intra- and inter-sectoral collaboration in ASEAN and collectively helping each other in accelerating the MDGs attainment. Collective actions in five critical factors of advocacy, knowledge, resources, expertise, and regional cooperation and regional public Roadmaps and promote closer partnerships between ASEAN and synergise the actions taken by ASEAN Member States on the two UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap, it could harmonising the broad headings of this Roadmap with those of the UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap. It is envisaged that by correspond broadly with the five headings of the UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap, the collective actions in this Roadmap are categorised into five critical factors that correspond to the MDGs. Those factors are not meant to be specific but rather a foundation upon which ASEAN can refine and transform into actions to support ASEAN Member States in accelerating their MDGs attainment. Since this Roadmap is a means for implementation, it allows the relevant ASEAN sectoral bodies to choose the appropriate means to implement the MDGs.

The following ASEAN sectoral bodies are considered as directly corresponding to the eight thematic areas of the MDGs:

- Goal 1 (poverty) : SOMRDPE, SOM-AMAF
- Goal 2 (education) : SOM-ED
- Goal 3 (gender) : ACW
- Goal 4, 5, 6 (health) : SOMHD and its subsidiary bodies
- Goal 7 (environment) : ASOEN
- Goal 8 (global partnerships) : All sectoral bodies
- Other sectoral bodies that are considered as relevant across the Goals: SOMSWD (children-related Goals), AHSOM (statistics) SOMDP (development planning) and IAI Task Force (narrowing development gaps),

A stock-taking exercise was carried out to show the linkages between the relevant ASEAN sectoral bodies’ Actions in the ASCC Blueprint and their corresponding work programmes or activities/initiatives which may have relevance to the specific MDGs. The result is presented in a form of matrix that would need to be updated and reported by the concerned ASEAN sectoral bodies regularly. The Regional Workshop held on 24-25 January 2011 in Bangkok, Thailand, recommended that the progress of implementation of this Roadmap be reported by ASEAN Member States regularly to the ASCC Council through the ASEAN Senior Officials Committee for ASCC (SOCA). The matrix could be used as a reference document to keep track of the progress made towards the MDGs by the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies.

This Roadmap presents a foundation upon which ASEAN can plan a way forward for supporting poverty reduction in the region. The underlying purpose of this Roadmap is:

- To support ASEAN Member States to maximise development (partly encapsulated in their national MDGs);
- To narrow the development gaps within and between ASEAN Member States;
- To allow successful ASEAN’s economic and socio-cultural integration; and
- To promote collaboration between ASEAN Member States

As the aim and process of the UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap closely resembles the purpose and process of the ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs, the collective actions in this Roadmap are categorised into five critical factors that correspond broadly with the five headings of the UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap. It is envisaged that by harmonising the broad headings of this Roadmap with those of the UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP-lead Asia Pacific MDG Roadmap, it could synergise the actions taken by ASEAN Member States on the two Roadmaps and promote closer partnerships between ASEAN and UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP in this regard.

III. KEY AREAS OF COLLECTIVE ACTIONS

A. Advocacy and Linkages

The collective actions contained in this section aim at keeping regional and national stakeholders focused on the MDGs in ASEAN Member States. Stakeholders include the governments of ASEAN Member States, ASEAN Dialogue Partners, regional and international organisations, civil society, private sector and the media. Engagement of civil society organisations at regional level shall be in accordance with Article 16 of the ASEAN Charter and the rules of procedure and criteria for engagement with entities associated with ASEAN as prescribed by the Committee of Permanent Representatives to ASEAN (CPR).

A.1. Integration of the MDGs Regionally

A.1.1. Determine and appoint appropriate MDGs focal points in each ASEAN Member State

Determination of appropriate focal points in each ASEAN Member State is very useful to the process of operationalising this Roadmap. The line ministries in ASEAN Member States that are responsible for coordinating development strategies and plans as well as for monitoring MDG progress act as the focal points. In most ASEAN Member States, this would be the Ministry of Planning. At the regional level, the Ministries of Planning are the focal points for the ASEAN Senior Officials Meeting on Development Planning (SOMDP) which is under the ASEAN Political and Security Community (APSC) pillar. Selection of the appropriate focal points of ASEAN Member States for the MDGs will be up to each ASEAN Member State. ASEAN Member States that do not have a Ministry of Planning could nominate an appropriate Ministry as the alternative focal point.

Such focal points would allow this Roadmap to link directly with national development strategies for planning, achieving and monitoring the MDGs or national equivalents in each ASEAN Member State.

A.1.2. Determine an appropriate forum for operationalising the MDG Roadmap and sharing MDG progress within ASEAN

The existing platforms, could facilitate communications among relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies and foster the sharing of progress of MDGs amongst ASEAN Member States. Complementing this, other cross-sectoral fora, such as the Regional Workshop on the Attainment of the MDGs on 24-25 January 2011 in Bangkok, could be initiated as avenues to deliberate on the issues of MDGs.

Regional reporting on the progress of the MDGs in ASEAN Member States would involve AHSOM through its biennial ASEAN MDGs Statistics Report and SOMDP considering that the ministries of planning in most of ASEAN Member States are responsible for coordinating development strategies and plans as well as for monitoring MDG progress. The involvement of SOMDP would synergise the MDGs monitoring at national and regional levels.

A closer look at the mandates and tasks of various ASEAN sectoral bodies shows that the following ASEAN sectoral bodies could be identified to have direct relevance to the various
A.1.3. Synergise the implementation of the ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs and the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC) Blueprint

The implementation of this Roadmap shall be in synergy with that of the ASCC Blueprint by the relevant ASEAN sectoral bodies. The implementation of MDGs-related programmes and its activities at the regional level is generally sector specific as it is guided by the relevant ASCC Blueprint and sectoral work plan. Clearly there are gaps found within each sector in implementing the Actions and sectoral work plan. The limited resources available within each sectoral body could easily be identified as one of the main obstacles in the implementation of programmes and activities. Faced with limited resources available within each sectoral body, it is recommended to seek appropriate support from Dialogue Partners or other organisations. However, an opportunity actually exists for inter-sectoral collaboration to address certain Goals allowing the sectoral bodies to synergise their efforts and resources ensuring that the implementation of programmes and activities could be more impactful. This would reduce the tendency to operate in “silos” and would promote a more cohesive approach to poverty reduction and achievement of the MDGs, given that the MDGs are linked. This recommendation applies equally to ASEAN sectoral working groups and taskforces.

A.2. Integration of the MDGs Nationally

A.2.1. Facilitate mainstreaming and localisation of the MDGs in ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that whenever possible, ASEAN Member States could facilitate and promote their respective line ministries, other than relevant planning / coordinating ministries, to align their strategies, plans and initiative with national development plans and strategies, including mainstreaming of MDG targets and indicators, into sectoral strategies, plans and monitoring frameworks. As line ministries play a major role in operationalizing plans and strategies it is essential that mainstreaming the MDGs occur.

In several ASEAN Member States, sectoral strategies were not well aligned with the national development strategy targets and time lines. In other cases, the MDGs or equivalent goals in nation development strategies were not clearly visible in sector strategies. Further, collaboration between ministries of planning or similar with responsibility for overarching development strategies was not strong or regular, further weakening the link between national development / poverty reduction strategies that encompass the MDGs and operational activities and service delivery of line ministries.

It is further recommended that as much as possible, ASEAN Member States could promote strategies to localise the MDGs to local government levels so that activities to achieve the MDGs are incorporated into local government planning, action and monitoring. Local ownership and leadership should be encouraged. Such localisation might assist in overcoming some of the challenges apparent in ASEAN Member States as a result of decentralisation. Such strategies for localisation of MDGs should be incorporated into national development strategies.

It is recommended that ASEAN Member States could encourage the use of the MDG data for evidence-based planning and the implementation of activities at national level to create, modify or terminate activities in a timely fashion to more effectively achieve the MDGs at all levels.

Lastly, it is recommended that ASEAN Member States consider providing incentives to promote localisation of the MDGs. Examples include: disbursements of funds to local government units based in part on adequate local development plans that incorporate the MDGs and progress, in terms of outcomes, towards achievement at the local level.

A.2.2. Facilitate heightened mainstreaming of gender in ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that during the facilitation of the MDG mainstreaming, similar attention is paid to mainstreaming gender across the MDGs and national development strategies in ASEAN Member States. It is recommended that in most ASEAN Member States particular attention is paid to moving from a focus on the gender mainstreaming mechanisms to activities that most effectively lead to positive gender equality outcomes. As an example of a specific action, the Viet Nam Women’s Union links the strategies, policies and the mainstreaming mechanisms with the men and women in villages, and has managed to improve well-being and enhance gender equality.
A.3. Promote active involvement of relevant stakeholders

A.3.1. Increase the involvement of civil society in actions to achieve the MDGs

It is recommended that ASEAN increase involvement of civil society in activities related to the achievement of the MDGs in the region where appropriate, and that ASEAN Member States also, where appropriate, maximize their partnerships with civil society. Already, civil society plays an integral role in most ASEAN Member States in implementing activities and monitoring the achievement and government actions on the MDGs.

It is also recommended that action plans, agreements and the like are shared where appropriate, more openly and proactively with major civil society organisations, such as NGO umbrella groups and private sector/business forums in ASEAN Member States, as well as international NGOs and regional business forums. There are several reasons:

- Keep all stakeholders focused on achieving the MDGs
- Fostering collaboration and minimizing duplication of efforts
- Accessing alternative funding sources
- Improving accountability and transparency (good governance)-NGOs in some countries during this study suggested that if they were aware of agreements committed to by their respective governments that they would be able to hold them accountable to take action on their commitments.

ASEAN might also consider, where appropriate, engaging directly with civil society and/or establishing a network or linkages with existing networks in the region. Good practice examples of engagement with civil society exist within ASEAN. Engagement of civil society at regional level shall be in accordance with Article 16 of the ASEAN Charter and the rules of procedure and criteria for engagement with entities associated with ASEAN as prescribed by the Committee of Permanent Representatives to ASEAN (CPR).

A.3.2. Develop and implement an advocacy plan for the MDG achievement

There are many activities that could be developed to advocate widely for attention and action on the MDGs in addition to those outlined above. The following additional activities could be considered by ASEAN:

- Facilitating media campaigns within the region to increase public awareness;
- Engagement in existing international and regional forums on the MDGs.

It is recommended that such activities are incorporated into an advocacy plan, that is shared and accepted by all ASEAN Member States, and which is engendered.

B. Knowledge

B.1. Information Sharing on the MDGs

B.1.1. Share existing MDG knowledge and information amongst ASEAN Member States

Existing mechanisms by which the most up-to-date data on the MDGs and other key development variables from all ASEAN Member States is readily available electronically would need to be leveraged. Instead of ASEAN creating a separate data base or other repository of information, it is recommended that ASEAN manage knowledge about the MDGs, including processes, best practices, and up-to-date statistics, by merely facilitating the sharing of this information through the existing mechanisms, such as:

- Existing MDG databases;
- UNDP sources on MDGs;
- ASEAN MDGs Statistics Report to be issued biennially by AHSOM;
- Best practice manuals and case studies developed by ASEAN and on the ASEAN website or national websites;
- The regional knowledge management centre that might be established in future under the UNESCAP/ADB/UNDP Asia Pacific Regional MDG Initiative;
- Research and academic institutions to exchange research results and information on the MDGs.

It is recommended that ASEAN Member States make the data sets from development indicators, including the MDGs, widely available for utilisation by independent assessors in a timely manner after collection. While acknowledging the importance of making data sets related to MDGs among ASEAN Member States, some Member States still need capacity building in statistical system improvement through trainings and technical assistance. The open review of the MDGs is part of the commitment of the Millennium Declaration. In sharing and utilisation of the MDGs data, it is recommended that the data used by ASEAN could be made in line with the UN’s data.

B.2. Sharing of Best Practices

B.2.1. Develop practical manuals on best practices for MDG achievement from within ASEAN

It is recommended that ASEAN facilitate practical manuals on best practices to achieve MDG-related outcomes. A standardised format would be useful. Such manuals should be practical, user friendly language, including step by step guidelines, easy to follow instructions, and linked with the implementing agency with the country, ministry or NGO responsible. CDs and DVDs would be valuable, as would facilitated bilateral tours rather than meetings, like “on-the-job” sharing of experience. It is recommended that sectoral bodies identify best practices in each MDG area. It is envisaged that ASEAN sectoral bodies, with the assistance of the ASEAN Secretariat, would be responsible for seeking funding from ASEAN Dialogue Partner for developing and producing best practice manuals. ASEAN Member States could share their respective best practice examples. It is also envisaged that these manuals would be available electronically rather than in hard copy where possible.

It is also recommended that in view of ASEAN’s focus on reducing disparities and vulnerabilities between and within ASEAN Member States, that existing information is collected... and made accessible on this topic. This information would then be available for practical implementation, where applicable.

B.2.2. Provide links to best practice examples outside ASEAN

It is also recommended that the ASEAN Secretariat collect and disseminate on its website, best practice examples that may have been compiled and consolidated by development partners and others. The ASEAN Centres of Excellence and the SEAMEO Centres could be engaged for dissemination of best practices.

B.3. Promotion of Researches

B.3.1. Facilitate research into the potential impact of economic integration on vulnerable communities in ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that ASEAN facilitate research on the potential impact of the economic integration on vulnerable communities in the region; and what ASEAN as a group and individual ASEAN Member States could do to mitigate or reduce the negative risks that do occur of economic integration. Such study shall not duplicate similar regional research studies that have been undertaken by ASEAN, such as the Study to Determine the Impact of Accelerating the ASEAN Economic Community From 2020 to 2015 on CLMV which commenced under the IAI Framework. For easier cross-country comparison and dissemination of findings among Member States, research network and common research protocols and areas could be considered on a need basis. Furthermore, the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies that are interested to undertake such research should be identified. Other researches relevant to achieving the MDGs in ASEAN Member States are also to be encouraged.

C. Resources

This section outlines suggested recommendations concerning financing the MDGs, human resources and cooperation.

C.1. Funding

C.1.1. Ensure the implementation of this ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs is well resourced

ASEAN shall ensure that this Roadmap and the corresponding Action Plans of the ASCC Blueprint can realistically be funded. Otherwise, well developed plans will not lead to poverty reduction for poor people in the region. The following is suggested:

- Determine the reasons why the target is off-track, causality and link to the other MDG areas. Based on the evidence, determine what needs to be done to bring the MDG back on track. It is suggested to look from 2015 backwards instead of trying to look forward from where the off-track MDG is now. The latter method tends to just make incremental changes to existing programmes and budgets and a more radical shift may be required.
- In each ASEAN Member States, determine the realistic cost of bringing off-track MDGs back on track, as well as for maintaining current efforts for the MDGs that are on track for achievement by 2015. This exercise should broaden its focus to include groups and locations that are not on track or that are vulnerable.
- Determine how shortfalls can be overcome by responding to these questions, i.e. do ASEAN Member States have the human and institutional resources to undertake the activities required? What is required to meet MDGs? What is existing now? Is there a shortfall? How to make this up? Is external technical support and capacity building required? Can ASEAN facilitate from other ASEAN Member States or Dialogue Partners or elsewhere?

It is recommended that the CPR and IAI Taskforce recognise the multi-stakeholder dimension of aid and improve its role in coordinating and partnering with concerned agencies and stakeholders. There is a key role for the CPR and IAI Taskforce to play in facilitating funding links between ASEAN Member States and with other external parties to narrow the gap and reduce vulnerabilities between and within ASEAN Member States using the MDGs as a platform.

It is recommended that ASEAN pursues funding for this Roadmap from ASEAN Dialogue Partners and other development partners. Funding would be required for those Member States that are off-track towards reaching specific targets of the MDGs. As part of this process, existing linkages should be investigated and built-up, and the partner sought would depend on the technical assistance and funds available from that partner.

It is also recommended that the existing mechanisms be maximised to facilitate support between ASEAN Member States and from Dialogue Partners and international organisations to ASEAN Member States in areas of most needed under the MDGs. Those existing mechanisms, such as the frameworks for cooperation between ASEAN and UN agencies or other international organisations, could be broadened to include the MDGs specifically.

C.1.2. Use MDG-8 as an entry point to foster development partnerships amongst ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that the MDG-8 is promoted in the ASEAN region to strengthen partnerships and to develop new partnerships between ASEAN Member States both for funding and technical support. In this way, ASEAN can act collectively to identify and take action on regional opportunities to achieve the MDGs and ensure benefits for development are distributed effectively. Many partnerships exist within ASEAN at a bilateral level which could also be tapped in.

It is recommended that this support focus on narrowing the development gaps between and within ASEAN Member States with regard to the MDGs and poverty, broadly speaking. One entry point to commence this MDG-8 could be the environment goals of MDG-7, as all ASEAN Member States are dealing with environmental issues, such as: climate change, CO2 emissions, forest cover. The environment is a shared public good.

It is also recommended that ASEAN Member States share information regarding their experiences in implementing strategies to act on the MDG-8. Mechanisms must be developed, including possible action plans.
The achievement of their MDGs. The recommendations below should be important in supporting ASEAN Member States to accelerate with the Plus Three countries and/or the EAS countries is considered achieving the MDGs.

This section presents recommendations in the areas of expert expertise and technical assistance that allows practical solutions to problems in support in the form of capacity building, institutional strengthening, and capacity building. It is suggested that the linkages fostered focus on building organizational capacity rather than individual capacity.

In a first step in this process, attempts should be made to identify the strengths of ASEAN Member States and Dialogue Partners, where similarities lie between them and best practices could be shared, and partnerships could be further strengthened.

It is also important to build on existing initiatives. Some of these include:
- Sub-regional arrangements such as those that Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Malaysia, and the Philippines have within ASEAN; the East ASEAN Growth Area (BIMPEAGA),
- Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand-Growth Triangle (IMT-GT),
- Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore-Growth Triangle (IMS-GT),
- ASEAN Mekong Basin Development Cooperation (AMBDC),
- Ayeyawady-Chao Phraya-Mekong Economic Cooperation Strategy (ACMECS) to reducing the development gap within the region.
- Greater Mekong Sub-Region disease surveillance system.

D. Expertise

This section presents recommendations in the areas of expert support in the form of capacity building, institutional strengthening, and technical assistance that allows practical solutions to problems in achieving the MDGs.

As recommended above, South-South cooperation within ASEAN and with the Plus Three countries and/or the EAS countries is considered to be important in supporting ASEAN Member States to accelerate the achievement of their MDGs. The recommendations below should utilise cooperation between ASEAN Member States where possible, followed by cooperation with development partners.

D.1. Institutional Strengthening

D.1.1. Facilitate the strengthening of institutions involved in the MDG achievement in ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that ASEAN focus on facilitating the strengthening of key institutions rather than training or building the capacity of individuals, in ASEAN Member States that are struggling to achieve the MDGs as a result of system weaknesses. The statistical system would be one area that could benefit from this recommendation. Additionally, strengthening of key institutions could also be applied to other areas, such as in ensuring equitable access to medicines through improving the country pharmaceutical system. It is envisaged that institutional strengthening would be a long-term partnership amongst ASEAN Member States or with other neighboring countries.

D.2. Provision of Expertise to Ensure Effective Monitoring of the MDGs

The collection, analysis and utilisation of data to effectively monitor the progress of the MDGs are critical to moving the MDGs achievement forward in the region. During the field work for this study, many anomalies were observed across most countries. Specific general recommendations are listed below:

D.2.1. Promote quality of data collection and analysis

The following recommendations are made in order to ensure valid and reliable data are available for MDG achievement:
- Central government supervises local data collection for the generation of national statistics.
- To identify the Member States with greater statistical and analytical capacity, and ultimately encouraging them to provide assistance to those Member States that are in need of capacity building in these areas.
- To facilitate in seeking expertise within ASEAN and from the Dialogue Partners to assist ASEAN Member States in enhancing quality of data and analysis.
- Development of adequate capacity at lower levels.
- Experiences are shared between ASEAN Member States in enhancing data quality.

D.2.2. Promote the disaggregation of data as widely as possible

It is recommended that ASEAN promote the disaggregation of data concerning the MDGs to local geographical level, by sex and age groups, by marginalised and vulnerable groups, by rural and urban areas, by slum and non-slum, etc. This would increase the utility of data for targeting and local planning, and allow interventions to be tailored for different localities, and be gender-responsive.

It also is recommended that the set of sex-disaggregated indicators outlined by ASEAN in the Third Report on the Advancement of Women in ASEAN which was issued in 2007 as a project of the ASEAN Committee on Women (ACW) are promoted and utilised by ASEAN Member States where possible.
D.2.4. Include a qualitative dimension in indicators for the MDGs

It is recommended that ASEAN facilitate the harmonisation of indicators used for tracking the MDGs across the region as much as possible. This would involve the development of a data dictionary, such as definitions of indicators, formulae, terminologies, etc. being used by different ASEAN Member States. However, it is acknowledged that standardisation of indicators and data collection and analysis is not practical as ASEAN Member States are in different situations and have different statistical systems.

Inconsistent use of indicators and the lack of understanding of the purpose and the definition of the indicators made the accurate assessment of the MDG progress more difficult. For example, in several ASEAN Member States, poverty incidence data are not comparable over time because the methodology for data collection changed between surveys, the calculation of the poverty line changed, the sampling frame changed, or the method of analysis changed. It is recommended that when changes of this kind are made, a data set is maintained in which the poverty line determination and the method of analysis are kept constant over time to allow comparison between data sets.

It is further recommended that technical notes, guidelines, methodologies are prepared and made available for data collection, analysis and reporting is made available that pertain to the different data systems used in ASEAN Member States. One of the concerns pertaining to the MDG targets and indicators is that baseline data may not be available, data on the new indicators may be weak, and expertise limited. While decision regarding data collection on these MDG targets and indicators is up to individual ASEAN Member States, ASEAN could facilitate technical notes and technical assistance on these new indicators.

D.2.3. Harmonise indicators for the MDGs

It is recommended that ASEAN facilitate the harmonisation of indicators used for tracking the MDGs across the region as much as possible. This would involve the development of a data dictionary, such as definitions of indicators, formulae, terminologies, etc. being used by different ASEAN Member States. However, it is acknowledged that standardisation of indicators and data collection and analysis is not practical as ASEAN Member States are in different situations and have different statistical systems.

Inconsistent use of indicators and the lack of understanding of the purpose and the definition of the indicators made the accurate assessment of the MDG progress more difficult. For example, in several ASEAN Member States, poverty incidence data are not comparable over time because the methodology for data collection changed between surveys, the calculation of the poverty line changed, the sampling frame changed, or the method of analysis changed. It is recommended that when changes of this kind are made, a data set is maintained in which the poverty line determination and the method of analysis are kept constant over time to allow comparison between data sets.

It is further recommended that technical notes, guidelines, methodologies are prepared and made available for data collection, analysis and reporting is made available that pertain to the different data systems used in ASEAN Member States. One of the concerns pertaining to the MDG targets and indicators is that baseline data may not be available, data on the new indicators may be weak, and expertise limited. While decision regarding data collection on these MDG targets and indicators is up to individual ASEAN Member States, ASEAN could facilitate technical notes and technical assistance on these new indicators.

D.2.4. Include a qualitative dimension in indicators for the MDG targets

It is recommended that the Action Lines of the ASCC Blueprint should include in the goals, expected outcomes, output targets and indicators, not only the quantity of change targeted but also the quality, where applicable. Indicators should specify, where possible and appropriate, both the quantity and quality of the desired change, the target population, the deadline for change, and the location.

One of the concerns is that the MDGs emphasised only the quantity of change and not the quality. This is particularly relevant to the following MDG goals and targets:
- MDG-2 on the quality of education
- MDG-5 on the achievement of universal access to reproductive health care, but the level, type and quality of care are not mentioned.
- MDG-7 on water quality.

In developing quality indicators, it is suggested that the indicators should be in accordance with international guidelines on quality. For instance on water quality, there is a need to define the source of water and water quality which could be benchmarked against the World Health Organization (WHO) Drinking Water Guidelines (2004).

Possible actions that could be included: use of small area qualitative assessments, preparation of guiding technical notes; capacity building; and review of national targets.

D.3. Reducing Disparities

D.3.1. Facilitate the provision of expertise to bring the MDGs back on track

It is recommended to identify and mobilise technical expertise to assist ASEAN Member States in exploring ways to realise MDGs. Further, it is recommended to determine reasons why the MDGs may be off-track and to put together a package of expert support to assist ASEAN Member States to get back on track.

In this regard, trainings, capacity building, technical assistance and the sharing of best practices and lessons learnt among ASEAN Member States are important. It is important to pay attention to the MDGs that are off-track or stagnant in several ASEAN Member States. Some of these include: neonatal mortality, maternal mortality, mobile populations, urbanization, and the quality and inclusiveness of growth and economic integration. At the same time, assistance in specific areas is still required for some ASEAN Member States.

D.3.2. Facilitate provision of expertise to reduce disparities

Widening disparities and increasing vulnerabilities are of concern to ASEAN as the association moves towards economic and socio-cultural integration by 2015. Many of the problems relating to disparities and vulnerabilities are common in ASEAN Member States, such as the marginalization and poor social and economic outcomes of ethnic minorities, and the inability of people living in remote areas to access social services and income generating opportunities.

It is recommended that following the performance of recommended research mentioned earlier, ASEAN develop and integrate clear measures to overcome disparities and reduce vulnerabilities into the Blueprints and subsequent sectoral action plans. It is also recommended that ASEAN recommend similar action to ASEAN Member States for country-specific action at national level.

E. Regional cooperation and regional public goods

This set of recommendations presents actions for enhanced cooperation in the region, as well as actions that affect and protect public goods that “belong” to several, or all, ASEAN Member States.

E.1. Integration of ASEAN’s Agenda on the MDGs Regionally and Globally

E.1.1. Collaboration with Asia-Pacific regional and sub-regional initiatives

It is recommended that this Roadmap is aligned, harmonised, and/or at least, collaborates with and is aware of other Asia-Pacific regional and sub-regional initiatives on the MDGs and poverty reduction. Such harmonisation would reduce the... duplication of effort, maximize the efficient use of resources, ensure sharing of information, and promote strong cooperation between countries, donors, international organisations and civil society. Regional events could be combined and the number of events decreased, reducing the burden on ASEAN Member States to attend and host such expensive exercises.

Regional initiatives include, but are not limited to, the following:
- UNESCAP/UNDP initiative of a knowledge management centre on the MDGs has established processes for information sharing, runs annual forums, provides MDG updates and tools, accesses resources for countries, and runs an MDG advocacy campaign.
- With many cooperative frameworks addressing the needs of the riparian countries of the Mekong River, there arises the need to minimize overlap. Examples include: Greater Mekong Sub-region Programme of ADB, Mekong River Commission’s environmental and wildlife initiatives.
- The biannual UNGASS reports on HIV and AIDS status prepared by most ASEAN Member States has been used as a reporting mechanism also used by ASEAN instead of preparing separate reports. Signatory countries, which include all ASEAN Member States, are required to submit annual UNGASS reports on progress regarding treatment, control and care of PLWHAs. The UNGASS indicators are quite well aligned with the indicators in MDG-6.

ASEAN Sectoral Bodies are recommended to look into the possibility of streamlining the Roadmap with existing international mechanisms. It is also recommended for the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies to continue cooperating with international/regional partner organisations towards implementing the Roadmap.

E.1.2. Lobby for support from global initiatives on climate change and other public goods for the ASEAN region ASEAN as a group can benefit from global initiatives that aim to provide finance, technology and capacity building support; and to support actions in mitigating and adapting to the effects of climate change. It is therefore recommended that ASEAN take on this role, collectively, on behalf of individual ASEAN Member States. More resources and opportunities globally are becoming available. Such action could raise awareness on climate change and the link between poverty and environment; and promote regional action on the environment. Other examples of regional public goods are water, forests and clean air. It is possible that food security, essential drugs and legal frameworks, such as national legal requirement and/or rules and regulation for labor migration, could also be included.

E.1.3. Initiate programmes for a limited number of issues that cut across the MDGs and impact several ASEAN Member States

It is recommended that ASEAN focus its attention on longer-term actions that results in significant outcomes for people in the region, rather than focus on only one-off short term projects, discussion and information sharing. A focus on important cross/multi-country issues that affect development and undermine the overall achievement of the several MDGs in several ASEAN Member States is recommended. Various cross-cutting areas related to the MDGs were identified during the Regional Workshop held on 24-25 January 2011 in Bangkok, Thailand, including: gender issues, migration, social impact of climate change, energy and food crisis, disaster management, disability and health.

IV. SUMMARY OF THE ROADMAP (TABLE 1)

Table 1 of this Roadmap highlights the above recommendations for supporting ASEAN Member States to accelerate their MDGs attainment by 2015. The recommendations described above and on Table 1 do not fall into sectoral groupings, but are presented in the same five key factors of advocacy and linkages; knowledge; resources; expertise; and regional cooperation and public goods.

Within each category, recommendations are prioritised by sub-category and then by recommendation as shown by the order of placement and the timing indicated. Responsibilities for each recommendation and timeframe are also indicated in Table 1. Responsibilities have been allocated from within the existing ASEAN structure, as it was agreed by the participants at the Regional Workshop held on 24-25 January 2011 in Bangkok, Thailand, that existing ASEAN mechanisms would be utilised for implementing this Roadmap.

While the broad recommendations made above and presented in this Table 1 below may contribute to the acceleration of the achievement of the MDGs in ASEAN Member States, it is important to bear in mind that there are many other variables (e.g. petrol prices, rice prices, natural disasters etc.) that can have a considerable impact on the achievement of the MDGs within and across ASEAN Member States. Such variables are largely outside the control of ASEAN and of ASEAN Member States.

As 2015 is not that far away, it is important to begin the implementation of actions as soon as possible.

ASEAN Declaration of Commitment: Getting to Zero New HIV Infections, Zero Discrimination, Zero AIDS-Related Deaths

Bali, Indonesia, 17 November 2011

1. We, the Heads of State/Government of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (hereinafter referred to as “ASEAN”), namely Brunei Darussalam, the Kingdom of Cambodia, the Republic of Indonesia, the Lao People’s Democratic Republic, Malaysia, the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, the Republic of the Philippines, the Republic of Singapore, the Kingdom of Thailand and the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam, on the occasion of the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali, Indonesia reviewing comprehensively the progress achieved in the decade since the adoption of the 2001 ASEAN Declaration on AIDS and the implementation of the 2007 ASEAN Commitments on HIV and AIDS;

2. Reaffirming the commitment of ASEAN Member States to accelerate progress in achieving the Millennium Development Goal 6 (MDG6), which specifically refers to halting and reversing the spread of HIV and AIDS, and other related MDGs by 2015; and the 2010 High Level Plenary Meeting United Nations General Assembly on MDGs entitled: Keeping the Promise: United to Achieve the Millennium Development Goals;

3. Confirming our commitment to Resolutions 66/10 and 67/9 of the 66th and 67th Sessions of the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, respectively, and the outcome of the 2011 United Nations General Assembly High Level Meeting on AIDS entitled, the “Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS: Intensifying our Efforts to Eliminate HIV/AIDS” which reaffirmed the 2001 Declaration of Commitments on HIV/AIDS and the 2006 Political Declaration on HIV/AIDS and called for efforts to end the epidemic with renewed political will and strong, accountable leadership, and to work in meaningful partnership with all stakeholders at all levels to implement bold and decisive actions;

4. Guided by the ASEAN Charter which entered into force in December 2008, and with a strong commitment to accelerate the establishment of the ASEAN Community by 2015 through the implementation of the Blueprints of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC), ASEAN Political Security Community (APSC) and the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC);

5. Emphasising that under the ASCC Blueprint, concrete actions have been provided to improve our capability to control communicable diseases including HIV and AIDS, and particularly in reducing the transmission of HIV and the impact of the epidemic on individuals, community and society;

6. Acknowledge the relevant outputs of the 10th ASEAN Health Ministers Meeting (AHMM) last July 2010 held in Singapore that outlined goals, targets and activities for the regional collaboration on health, including HIV and AIDS initiatives through the Strategic Framework on Health Development (2010-2015);

7. Recalling that accelerated liberalisation of trade will enhance the region’s competitiveness and realise welfare gains for our peoples in the long run, and that efforts are also needed to ensure that access to affordable health care is not undermined and health policies will be equitable and pro-poor, as noted in the Declaration of the 7th ASEAN Health Ministers Meeting adopted on 22 April 2004;

8. Concerned that the HIV epidemic continues to threaten the realisation of an ASEAN Community, with socio-economic consequences that pose a formidable challenge in our community-building and our efforts to ensure access to affordable health care;

9. Noting the finding from ASEAN’s first regional report on HIV and AIDS of 2010 which observed that in the region, the HIV epidemic continues to affect more than 1.5 million people affecting Member States with varying intensity; that HIV prevalence remains high among key affected populations, including sex workers and their clients, people who inject drugs, and men who have sex with men and transgender population, while other populations continue to be vulnerable (such as partners/spouses of key affected populations, migrant and mobile populations, children and youth, women and girls, people in correctional institutions, and specific occupational groups like uniformed services, people in conflict and disaster-affected areas), and that to be effective, AIDS responses must deliver focused, evidence-informed interventions that address the particular risks and vulnerabilities faced by these populations;

10. Welcoming the finding that progress has been made in the region in the AIDS response, and that in some of the Members States the number of new HIV infections has declined with combined implementation of proven evidence-based interventions in prevention, treatment and care; noting the reduction in HIV prevalence rates in Cambodia, Myanmar and Thailand; noting also the efforts of other Member States on harm reduction, comprehensive condom use programming; use of TRIPS flexibilities and other prevention, treatment, care and support initiatives;

11. Welcoming the findings of recent studies that demonstrate that access to HIV treatment significantly reduces the risk of HIV transmission to a partner; and, that access to affordable medicines in the context of epidemics such as HIV is fundamental to the full realization of the right of everyone to enjoy the highest attainable standard of physical, social and mental health;

12. Concerned that intellectual property, trade policy barriers and social aspects such as stigma and discrimination, are hindering prevention activities on HIV and AIDS, access to HIV treatments and treatments for co-infections and opportunistic infections, as well as pose as serious threats to the quality of life and livelihood of people living with and affected by HIV;

13. Further acknowledging that the number of HIV infections could have been averted among newborn children with the implementation-proven strategy on prevention of mother-to-child transmission;
14. Realising that an effective response to HIV requires relentless efforts and continued commitment by all stakeholders in implementing comprehensive responses to prevent and reduce the number of new infections, and to provide appropriate treatment, care and support to key affected populations and other vulnerable groups;

15. Concerned that women and girls account for a high proportion of new infections, recall our commitment to the declarations and the outcomes of conferences on women and children such as the UN General Assembly Resolution 48/104, 1993 on the Declaration on the Elimination of Violence Against Women; the Beijing Declaration on the Fourth Conference on Women; the Beijing Plus Five; and, the Hanoi Call to Action for Children and HIV/AIDS in East Asia and Pacific Region, 2006, that aimed to undertake further responses.

      iii. Securing and expanding access to affordable and effective HIV diagnostics, ARV and OI drugs, through the full use of existing flexibilities under the Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights Agreement, which are specifically geared to promoting access to and trade of medicines, including in particular the use of compulsory licensing to enable manufacturing or parallel importation of generic drugs;
      iv. Addressing barriers, regulations, policies and practices that prevent access to affordable HIV treatment by promoting generic competition in order to help reduce costs associated with life-long chronic care;
   c. Expand efforts to combat HIV co-morbidities such as tuberculosis and hepatitis through integrated delivery of HIV and tuberculosis services in line with the Global Plan to Stop TB, 2011-2015; developing as soon as practicable approaches of prevention and treatment of hepatitis C; and rapidly expanding access to appropriate vaccination for hepatitis B;

The ASEAN Framework for Equitable Economic Development

Guiding Principles for Inclusive and Sustainable Growth

We, the Heads of State/Government of Brunei Darussalam, the Kingdom of Cambodia, the Republic of Indonesia, the Lao People’s Democratic Republic, Malaysia, the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, the Republic of the Philippines, the Republic of Singapore, the Kingdom of Thailand, and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam, Member States of ASEAN, at the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali, Indonesia;

Recalling the Cha-am HuaHin Declaration on the Roadmap for the ASEAN Community (2009-2015), the goal of establishing an ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) by 2015;

Emphasizing that equitable economic development is characterized by narrowing development gaps within and between Member States, better access to opportunities for human development, social welfare and justice, and more inclusive participation in the process of ASEAN integration and community building;

Recalling the guidance of the 18th ASEAN Summit to explore the role of ASEAN beyond 2015 and realize ASEAN as a region of equitable economic development, tasked Ministers to develop a Framework/Guiding Principles for Equitable Economic Development;

Realizing that the successful implementation of the AEC Blueprint will enable Member States to sustain economic growth and development and be part of a community of nations enjoying economic, social, cultural, political and regional security;

Recognizing that Member States will drive development according to their specific needs while benefiting from best practice, knowledge sharing, and ASEAN initiatives;

Do hereby:

Commit to further enhance the third pillar of the AEC Blueprint on Equitable Economic Development so as to provide our people with equal opportunities to benefit from regional economic integration;

Agree that equitable economic development calls on Member States to ensure that regional economic integration helps alleviate poverty and narrow the development gap within ASEAN through mutual assistance and cooperation;

Agree that this Framework provides the guiding principles for inclusive and sustainable growth for all sectoral and ministerial bodies under the AEC Pillars as follows:

Inclusive and Sustainable Growth

Targeting policies to promote sustainable growth and investment is an essential element of development and poverty reduction. This growth will be equitable if it is inclusive both within and between Member States. Inclusive growth is broad based across sectors and the general population by providing equal opportunities irrespective of income, gender, or size of enterprise.

Connectivity

Sustainable and inclusive development will be one of the key elements of our economic integration. Securing this growth is based on ensuring robust connectivity within and between our Member States. Connectivity encompasses physical, institutional, and people-to-people connectivity and therefore requires adequate physical infrastructure, human capital mobility, technology transfer, and access to markets.

Cohesive Action

To ensure growth is inclusive and sustainable, the equitable economic development pillar mutually reinforces actions under the other AEC pillars of a single market, competitive economic region, and integration in the global economy. In addition to this function, the equitable development pillar guides policy actions to remove obstacles in narrowing development gaps.

Single Market and Production Base

An effective and sustainable integration of our region requires addressing the equity consequences of the transition to our integrated community. We must ensure that the poor as well as the less and especially the least developed Member States take advantage of the available opportunities that integration provides. Identifying the value chain and connectivity issues to enable access to markets by those in less and especially the least developed regions and Member States will be our focus. We will promote inclusive growth through enhanced economic activities by reducing and/or eliminating barriers to trade and investment, increasing private investment in the region and ensuring production and transaction costs remain competitive.

Competitive Economic Region

We will ensure that actions to enhance competitiveness also support equitable economic development. We commit to addressing institutional, regulatory and policy bottlenecks to private investment, especially in less developed regions and Member States. Equity considerations will help prioritize infrastructure projects guided by the basic needs of our populations and targeting bottlenecks to development of less developed regions and Member States. We commit to ensure equitable growth by reducing the development divide through design and implementation of effective sub regional cooperation programmes that promote private sector investment.

Integration into the Global Economy

To ensure that all of our peoples benefit from the growth opportunities of our integration into the global economy, we affirm our collective resolve to take actions at the national and regional level. We recognize the importance of education and skills development in raising productivity, support for small and medium size enterprise, as well as broadening access to technology and finance.

Fostering Inclusive Growth

Specific measures to target poverty reduction and protect the most vulnerable are needed under our pillar of equitable economic development. It is necessary to foster human development, strengthen national and regional connectivity, promote coherent macroeconomic cooperation, promote private sector industrial collaboration, SME development and effective capacity building. As our Member States integrate, they should look into introducing or improving the quality, coverage and sustainability of social protection. These measures should be complemented by contingency plans in the event of economic or other forms of instability. In this regard, we recognize the role of employment creating public outlays, such as on small-scale pro poor infrastructure projects.

Financing

With Member State led development efforts guided by our shared experiences, we recognize the need for mechanisms to support efforts guided by this Framework. In this regard, we see important roles for both private and public capital to support the needed institutional and capacity building, technology transfer, and financing. Innovative actions, such as aid-for-trade, that can boost the prospects for successful integration are encouraged.

We task the concerned ASEAN Ministers and the Secretary-General of ASEAN to implement this Framework with the support of Member States, Dialogue Partners, Development Partners of ASEAN as well as other external parties.

Food and Energy Security

36. Bearing in mind that our present and future activities dictate the interests and livelihood of our children, food, energy, and water security remain critical to our policies in maintaining a resilient and competitive region. We, therefore, support relevant Ministries’ endeavours to follow up on the Leaders’ deliberations at the 18th ASEAN Summit. ASEAN should continue to play an active role in laying down the path for long term programs in securing access of our peoples to food, energy, and water, especially access to clean water.

37. We considered in depth the decision of the ASEAN Leaders at their 18th Summit to prioritize research and development in the agriculture sector, coordinated food policy, and greater investment in agricultural infrastructure. We, therefore, emphasized the importance of the ASEAN Integrated Food Security (AIFS) Framework and the Strategic Plan of Action on Food Security in the ASEAN Region (SPaFS) 2009 – 2013 in addressing potential food scarcity and resources. We shared the view that cooperation in the agricultural sector must also touch upon the livelihood of small farmers. Attending to the formulation of a food reserve system in ASEAN is of equal significance, one that will help farmers escape poverty. In this context, we are hopeful to seeing small farmers gain benefit from the implementation of ASEAN’s commitment in SMEs development, in particular by accessing financial support, market, and technology critical for their development and progress.

38. In the energy sector, ensuring energy security while giving due consideration to addressing environmental and global climate change issues, as well as reducing dependency on fossil fuels, remain a key challenge. ASEAN must be able to utilize the experience, expertise, and technology of other regional and international organizations in finding viable alternative and renewable energy resources, and improving energy efficiency and to realize our commitment in expediting electricity access to all of ASEAN particularly rural areas.

ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC)

39. We noted with satisfaction the significant progress in the implementation of the ASCC Blueprint toward the realization of the ASCC by 2015 that is people-centred and socially responsible. We acknowledged the priority areas set out for 2011 to strengthen cooperation through pertinent issues such as disaster management, communicable diseases, persons with disabilities, women and children, migrant workers, environmental issues, advancing and prioritizing education, culture, sports and the attainment of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and other people-oriented activities.

Disaster Management

40. In achieving the disaster resilient nations and safer communities by 2015, we realized the importance of putting forward the “Whole-of-Government” approach to ensure the coordination between the civilian and military actors during an emergency response operation. We, therefore, further encouraged the ACDM, ADSOM, ARF as well as mechanisms under the ASEAN+3 and EAS to synchronize policies on humanitarian assistance and disaster relief operations in accordance with accepted international frameworks and consistent with the principle of ASEAN Centrality.

41. We have agreed on the substantive content of the Agreement on the Establishment of the ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance in disaster management (AHA Centre) and will sign the agreement and launch the AHA Centre during the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali, November 2011. We welcome the activation of the provisional AHA Centre to bridge the operational gap while waiting for the launching of the Centre. We appreciated the commitment and contribution by the Indonesian Government as well as our dialogue and external partners, including from Japan, New Zealand, and the United States of America in ensuring the day-to-day activity of the provisional AHA Centre and welcome the incoming support from Australia as well as other dialogue and external partners.

42. We welcomed the ASEAN Militaries Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR) Table-Top Exercise (AHX) held in Singapore and Indonesia in July 2011, the first exercise among the ASEAN militaries. The AHX enhanced practical and tangible cooperation among ASEAN militaries in HADR through the familiarization with each other’s mode of operation as well as identified areas for improvement in HADR capacity-building, and improved military-to-military and civil-military communication and coordination.

43. We underlined the significant contribution of the ARF Participants at the ARF DIREx 2011 held in Manado, Indonesia, in March 2011. The Exercise proved meaningful for enhancing civil and military coordination, especially in the notion of civilian-led and military-supported, in the field of disaster relief management. We encouraged the active involvement of ARF Participants in similar exercises and took note of the recommendation to hold such field exercises on a two-year regular basis. We encouraged greater participation from related regional and international organizations in future exercises to strengthen and improve synergies and collaboration in disaster relief management cooperation in the region.
Climate Change
44. We reiterated the strong commitment in the efforts to address climate change at the national, regional and global levels based on the principles of the UNFCCC and its Kyoto Protocol. Realizing the vulnerability that is shared within our region, we reaffirmed our commitment to strengthen efforts in adapting to the impact of climate change. We are pleased that ASEAN is gradually building an understanding and common position on climate change, necessary and important to strengthen the voice of ASEAN at the global level. In this regard, we supported the ASEAN's initiative to develop an ASEAN Leaders' Joint Statement on Climate Change for the COP-17.

45. We re-emphasized the importance of ‘a clean and green ASEAN’ with fully established mechanisms, that are up to date and fine-tuned to meet the ever-changing effect of climate change adaptation, to ensure the protection of the environment, sustainability of natural resources, and high quality of life of the people in the region. We, therefore, reaffirmed our pledge to support the realization of the ASEAN Vision 2020.

Promoting the Sustainability of Freshwater Resources
46. We also shared the view that access to clean water is central in supporting the full attainment of the MDGs. In this regard, we agreed to reinforce our efforts to promote sustainable usage and management of water resources through enhanced information-sharing and cooperation, improve access to safe and clean water, sanitation, hygiene and healthy ecosystems through appropriate policies and adequate financial resources at all levels. As water is a cross-cutting issue, it is crucial to develop innovative environmental governance, integrated water management policy, legal frameworks, cross-sectoral policies, financing mechanisms and technologies in combination with capacity development. We saw the importance of promoting sustainability of water resources to ensure equitable and sufficient access to clean water for the people of ASEAN.

Migrant Workers
47. As a follow-up to the Leaders’ guidance at the 18th ASEAN Summit, we welcome the offer by the Philippines to host the 4th ASEAN Committee on Migrant Workers (ACMW) Drafting Team Meeting scheduled to be held in Manila prior to the 19th ASEAN Summit. We are confident that the ACMW would produce substantial progress in developing the draft ASEAN Instrument within the agreed phases. We also welcome the decision of the 7th Senior Labour Officials’ Meeting (SLOM) to continue to work on the draft ASEAN Instrument on the Protection and Promotion of the Rights of Migrant Workers based on the spirit of the ASEAN Declaration on the Protection and Promotion of the Rights of Migrant Workers adopted in Cebu at the 12th ASEAN Summit in 2007, focusing on issues which are in line with laws and policies of the ASEAN Member States. We also looked forward to the development of a proposal on the convening of a workshop on this matter as soon as possible.

Education
48. We recognized the role of education in developing human resources, enhancing regional competitiveness and in supporting the ASEAN Community Building process. We looked forward to the progress of the implementation of the 5-year Work Plan on Education as a strategy to advance the educational sector. We will work with the ASEAN Education Ministers to follow-up the Leaders’ recommendations, such as the teaching of ASEAN studies, exchange of students programme, and the development of a framework of a transfer of credits among universities in ASEAN Member States, building upon existing arrangements. We noted Indonesia’s intention to establish an ASEAN languages centre to promote proficiency in the languages of ASEAN Member States among the people of ASEAN and beyond, in line with the ASCC Blueprint.

Communicable Diseases
49. We underlined the continuous effort in ASEAN towards the prevention and control of communicable diseases, including dengue, by enhancing regional preparedness and capacity through integrated approaches to surveillance prevention, and timely response for an outbreak. We welcome the convening of the ASEAN Dengue Conference in Jakarta, 13-14 June 2011, and the first official launch of 15 June as ASEAN Dengue Day at the regional level. In this regard, we further supported the “Jakarta Call for Action on the Control and Prevention of Dengue” in strengthening ASEAN's effort to prevent and control dengue transmission in ASEAN.

50. As part of the preparations for the commemoration of the 10th Anniversary of the ASEAN Declaration on HIV and AIDS during the 19th ASEAN Summit, we noted with appreciation the efforts of the ASEAN Task Force on AIDS (ATFOA) Core Groups Meeting in May 2011 in Jakarta, to develop the Renewal of the ASEAN Declaration of Commitment on HIV and AIDS and to prepare two finalized important documents, namely the ASEAN Regional Report on HIV/AIDS and the ASEAN Work Program on HIV/AIDS. We also underscored the importance of global and regional determination to enhance preparedness and capacity in combating HIV/AIDS.

Sports
51. We underlined the importance of promoting healthier lifestyle and encouraging more interaction among peoples of ASEAN. We, therefore, welcome the convening of the 26th SEA Games in Palembang and Jakarta, Indonesia, and the 6th ASEAN Para-Games in Solo, Indonesia in November 2011. We expressed our commitment to support the realization of an ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Sports.

52. As a follow-up to the Leaders’ decision on ASEAN’s bid to host FIFA World Cup in 2030, we task the CPR to, in cooperation with the ASEAN Secretariat, engage the ASEAN Football Federation in conducting an initial study on the bid.

Women, Children, and Youth
53. We commended the ongoing efforts by the ACWC in finalizing the Rules of Procedures of the ASEAN Commission on the Promotion and Protection of the Rights of Women and Children (ACWC) g, in order to enhance its tasks in the promotion and protection of the rights of women and children in the region. We noted the development of the ACWC Work Plan to prioritize the thematic areas to respond to urgent regional issues and continued to urge the proper alignment of the work of the ACWC with the AICHR.

54. We look forward to the Preliminary ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Women this coming October 2011 in Indonesia to further strengthen ASEAN cooperation on empowering women.

Bearing in mind that fostering greater appreciation and understanding of ASEAN’s diverse culture and heritage is a key factor for the success of ASEAN Community Building, we welcome the development of the ASEAN Declaration on “Shared ASEAN Cultural Identity: Towards Strengthening the ASEAN Community,” for adoption during the 19th ASEAN Summit. With reference to the deliberations of our Leaders during the 19th ASEAN Summit in Jakarta, we further encouraged the notion to have an ASEAN television channel or network and supported enhancing media cooperation, through the use of appropriate media channels, to forge an ASEAN cultural identity among the people in the region.

ASEAN Connectivity
58. Taking into consideration the strategic political, economic, and social values of ASEAN Connectivity in relation to the establishment of an ASEAN Community by 2015 and the participation of our external partners, ASEAN must play a leading role and remain in the driving force behind initiatives to implement the MPAC. We must therefore ensure that initiatives to develop the region’s connectivity adhere to the key principles of the MPAC.

59. We emphasized that ASEAN Connectivity would promote economic growth, narrow development gap, ASEAN integration and Community building process, enhance the competitiveness of ASEAN and promote deeper social and cultural understanding as well as greater people mobility, connect its Member States within the region and with the rest of the world. We are committed to work together with relevant sectoral bodies in promoting the implementation of the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC).

60. We recommended to the ASEAN Connectivity Coordinating Committee (ACCC) to work closely with the relevant sectoral bodies and the ASEAN Connectivity National Coordinators (ACNC) for a coordinated and effective implementation of the MPAC and to accelerate the realization of the ASEAN Connectivity.

61. We are encouraged by the keen interest of ASEAN Dialogue Partners to pursue cooperation and partnerships with respect to the implementation of the MPAC. We will continue consultations and discussions with dialogue and external partners to enhance connectivity within the region and beyond. We also call on international and regional financial institutions such as ADB and World Bank, international organizations and institutions such as UN-ESCAP and ERIA as well as the private sector, to support the implementation of the MPAC. We support the efforts of ASEAN to continue to work with Dialogue Partners to organize activities to publicize ASEAN Connectivity to both business communities in ASEAN Member States as well as Dialogue Partners.

Narrowing the Development Gap
62. We acknowledge the achievements made by the Greater Mekong Sub region (GMS), the Indonesia-Malaysia-Thailand Growth Triangle (IMT-GT) and the Brunei-Indonesia-Malaysia-Philippines East ASEAN Growth Area (BIMP-EAGA), as well as other relevant sub-regional cooperation. We recommended to the ACCC to closely cooperate and coordinate with all of these sub-regional cooperation frameworks to implement the MPAC.

63. We acknowledged that ASEAN Connectivity is the first step in the development of enhanced connectivity between ASEAN and the wider region, which remains our long-term goal. We welcome the initiative introduced by Thailand to explore the possibility of having a “Connectivity Master Plan Plus” to connect ASEAN with our external partners.

Engagement and Participation of the People
64. We have benefited from ongoing regional integration and therefore we reiterate the goal towards a sustainable and viable ASEAN, through the implementation of the IAI Work Plan II. We remain committed to share these benefits so that all Member States and every segment of society shall benefit from ASEAN’s integration in achieving a more balanced, inclusive, and sustained ASEAN Community. We therefore reiterated that the issue must be addressed in a comprehensive manner, for narrowing the development gap creates the foundation needed in developing an ASEAN that we all envision.

65. We reaffirmed that ASEAN undertakings in all the three pillars, as well as the promotion of ASEAN Connectivity and the narrowing of development gap, could only be attained and sustained with the engagement and participation of the people. Indeed, all of our community-building endeavours are at the service of the people of ASEAN.

Joint Media Statement of the ASEAN Community Statistical System (ACSS) Committee First Session

Jakarta, Indonesia, 2-3 November 2011

Introduction

1. We, the ASEAN heads of statistical offices and members of the ASEAN Community Statistical System (ACSS) Committee, convened our first session in Jakarta, Indonesia on 2-3 November 2011 with a clearer mandate to define ASEAN statistical priorities and promote wider use of regional statistics, promote improvement of statistical infrastructure, facilitate human resource and institutional capacity building and to enhance institutional linkages with international statistical bodies.

2. Their Excellencies S. Pushpanathan, Deputy Secretary-General of ASEAN for ASEAN Economic Community and Mr. Jan-Willem Blankert, EU Special Adviser for ASEAN, welcomed the participants and delivered the keynote messages.

Institutional Strengthening

1. Immediately following the endorsement of its Terms of Reference by the ASEAN Economic Ministers (AEM) at its 43rd Meeting in August 2011, the ACSS Committee set to strengthen its institutional framework, governance, and decision-making process. We approved the establishment of the Planning and Coordination Sub-Committee of the ACSS Committee and the adoption of the Rules of Procedure. These are prerequisites for the effective functioning of the ACSS Committee.

2. In support of the monitoring and implementation of the ASEAN Roadmap on the Attainment of the Millennium Development Goals (MDG), we have worked to establish a sustainable mechanism of updating MDG data in close cooperation with the Member States’ national MDG focal point and national statistical system. We look forward to issuing the First ASEAN Statistical Report on MDG Indicators by December of this year.

3. Taking a more strategic perspective, we adopted the Multi-Year Action Plan in addition to the Annual Work Plan of the ACSS Committee including their planning cycle. This would allow the Member States to incorporate the regional priority in the planning and budgeting of their statistical activities. We stand committed to implement the Annual Work Plan 2012 and 2013.

Strengthening ASEAN Statistics

4. We recognised the ASEAN Statistical Indicators (ASI) as a statistical framework and a coordination mechanism in the development and harmonisation of ASEAN statistics. ASI covers a wide range of indicators and sub-domain of statistics that ensures the relevance of the outputs of the ACSS Committee with the ASEAN initiatives. At the same time, it lends support to the global and regional initiatives on the improvement of social and economic statistics.

5. We will continue to progress in the harmonisation of key economic statistics such as those on international merchandise trade, international trade in services, foreign direct investments, and manufacturing.

6. We recognised the importance of better communication of ASEAN statistics to our stakeholders.

Capacity Building and Strengthening Partnership

7. We are encouraged by the increasing interest of our development partners, relevant international organisations and dialogue...
partner countries in strengthening statistical cooperation and promoting capacity building.

8. We are confident that we can expedite the establishment of the ASEAN Community Statistical System by 2015. ASEAN Member States are committed to the implementation of the ASEAN Framework of Cooperation in Statistics. We appreciate our strong partnership with development partners, relevant international organisations and dialogue partner countries.

9. We acknowledge in particular, the support of the EU-ASEAN Statistical Capacity Building (EASCAB) Programme in the strengthening of institutional framework and statistical capacity in a number of fields of statistics.

Jakarta, Indonesia, 3 November 2011

ASEAN Finance Ministers Meeting (AFMM) Joint Media Statement of the 15th ASEAN Finance Ministers’ Meeting (AFMM) Bali, Indonesia, 8 April 2011 Theme: ASEAN Community in A Global Community of Nations

Introduction

1. We, the ASEAN Finance Ministers, convened our 15th Annual Meeting under the chairmanship of H.E. Agus Martowardojo, Minister of Finance of the Republic of Indonesia.

2. Together with the troika of ASEAN Central Bank Governors of Viet Nam Indonesia and Cambodia, we discussed the macroeconomic and financial challenges in the region and reaffirmed our commitment to ensure the on-going recovery, sustainable growth, and stability of the financial markets. We exchanged views with the Asian Development Bank (ADB), World Bank (WB), and International Monetary Fund (IMF) on the necessary responses to restore global recovery to a strong footing. To support our efforts toward meeting this commitment, we called on said international institutions to enhance coordinated policy actions in safeguarding the region’s economic and financial stability.

3. Building on our achievements to date, we assessed the progress of our regional initiatives under the Roadmap for Monetary and Financial Integration of ASEAN. While several concrete steps have been taken to integrate our financial markets, we recognized that deep financial integration is an important objective and significant policy challenges remain to be addressed. To this end, we agreed to work further on implementing the financial integration measures and to monitor the commitments already made. On regional bond markets, we look forward to fully implementing the US$700 million Credit Guarantee and Investment Facility in May 2011, and we welcomed the progress made toward the establishment of the ASEAN Infrastructure Fund (AIF) to support infrastructure financing in the region.

Regional Economic Update and Policy Challenges

4. We are pleased that economic activity in the region has remained buoyant despite the maturing of recovery. Most ASEAN countries have recently returned to, or even surpassed, their pre-crisis growth rates. Strong rebound in growth rates is still expected from a few countries. This reflects sustained strength in domestic demand buoyed by sound macroeconomic management and favorable external conditions. The private sector emerges as a key engine to our growth as private investment rebounded strongly. Although recovery is now consolidating, we are confident that our economic growth will settle at more sustainable but high levels this year, between 5.7 percent and 6.4 percent, from 7.6 percent last year.

5. Our economies proved to be resilient. However, risks remain. We discussed concerns about the current surge in capital flows, the emerging inflationary pressures combined with strong commodity price volatility. Keeping in mind the adverse impact of these vulnerabilities, we reaffirmed our commitment to respond rapidly and decisively to ensure systemic stability, avoid disruptive fluctuations in capital flows, and sustain growth. We recognised that implementation of appropriate macroeconomic policy actions, complemented by strengthened macro-prudential measures, is crucial to lessen the risks. To this end, we resolved to be vigilant.

6. Given the high interdependence among our economies, coordinated responses are crucial. We reiterated our call to enhance economic integration as a strategy for sustained recovery. Integration will not only increase the efficiency of production and consumption, but will also expand the economies of scale and accelerate investments in physical capital, technology and people – the key elements for achieving a stronger and more sustainable growth in the region.

Roadmap for Monetary and Financial Integration of ASEAN

7. Since 2003, our cooperative efforts to integrate our financial markets in the areas of financial services liberalisation, capital market development, capital account liberalisation, and payment and settlement systems have delivered strong results. Today we pledged to intensify our efforts to build stronger integrated financial markets that are mutually beneficial under the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) by 2015.

8. We note the updates provided by the ASEAN Secretary-General and the troika of ASEAN Central Bank Governors of Viet Nam, Indonesia and Cambodia on the status of the Combined Studies on Assessing the Financial Landscape and Formulating the Milestones for Monetary and Financial Integration of ASEAN. We are pleased with the progress of work in assessing the changing financial landscape in the region and their implications on future financial integration initiatives. We look forward to the actual progress of the implementation of the key milestones in financial integration in accordance to their respective timelines.

Capital Market Development

9. To achieve ASEAN bond market integration, we endorsed a two-pronged approach that will allow us to focus on specific priorities of both developed and developing bond markets in the region, including the setting up of an Action Group to identify specific impediments toward an integrated bond market and developing an implementation plan to address these gaps. We agreed to use our bond market development scorecard as a live document for our officials to measure the state of ASEAN’s bond market development, openness and liquidity on an ongoing basis.

10. We are encouraged by the significant progress made in the integration of our capital markets. To enable our regulators to monitor and assess the commitments we have made under the Implementation Plan to Promote the Development of an Integrated ASEAN Capital Market which we endorsed in 2009, we agreed with the development of a scorecard to measure the extent by which our capital markets comply with ASEAN standards and common framework in facilitating cross-border offerings and investment. Today, we have launched the marketing and branding initiatives to promote ASEAN as an asset class by the ASEAN Exchanges. We continue to render our support to the efforts toward creating an integrated capital markets to promote greater ASEAN investment opportunities and enhance the competitiveness and attractiveness of ASEAN in the eyes of the global investing community.

Financial Services Liberalisation

11. We are committed to undertake comprehensive and meaningful financial services liberalisation in the region. We have concluded the Fifth Package of Financial Services Negotiations and we will be working toward the signing of the Protocol to Implement the Fifth Package of Financial Services by May 2011. We are going to start the Sixth Round of Negotiations thereafter. We urged our officials to closely work together to ensure progressive liberalisation and integration of our financial markets.

Capital Account Liberalisation

12. We resolved to further liberalise our capital accounts consistent with Member States’ national agenda and readiness of our economies. We shall continue to align our legal, operating and regulatory framework to support FDI, portfolio and other types of investment while remaining mindful of the need to have adequate safeguard against potential macroeconomic instability and systemic risks. While we recognised the benefits of capital inflows into the region, we should continue to increase our capacity to deal with volatile capital flows and with the objective to enhance our resilience to external shocks.

Strengthening ASEAN Finance Cooperation and Economic Integration

Enhancing Regional Integration

13. As our economies become increasingly interconnected, we decided to strengthen the monitoring capability that is needed to achieve our desired economic integration. We asked the ASEAN Secretariat, through the newly established ASEAN Integration Monitoring Office (AIMO), to enhance its surveillance work in support of economic integration to facilitate the timely achievement of the ASEAN Economic Community by 2015. We encourage our Member States and development partners to assist the ASEAN Secretariat in this undertaking.

Infrastructure Financing

14. We are pleased with the significant progress achieved by the High-Level Task Force on AIF toward establishing the Fund. We agreed in principle to the AIF’s technical design and contributions amounting to US$485.2 million from both the ASEAN Member States and the ADB. We agreed to the domicile of AIF in Malaysia. We look forward to finalizing the AIF Agreement. This will strongly demonstrate the strength and commitment of ASEAN solidarity and consensus toward sustaining growth, facilitating the physical connectivity, and narrowing the infrastructure development gap in ASEAN.

15. We appreciated the continued support from the WB Infrastructure Finance Network (IFN). We also endorsed the proposed programs offered by the WB under the IFN for 2011.

Cooperation on Customs Matters

16. We are pleased with the progress of customs cooperation, particularly on the review of the Strategic Plan for Customs Development and on the implementation of the ASEAN Single Window, the ASEAN Customs Transit System and ASEAN Self-Certification pilot project. We urged our customs administration to fully implement all initiatives, including finalisation of agreements and protocols, in order to enhance the integration of customs and to support the establishment of a single market and production base under the AEC.

ASEAN Cooperation on Taxation

17. Recognising the importance of addressing tax-related impediments to integration, we endorsed the establishment of the ASEAN Forum on Taxation (AFT). The AFT will provide a platform to support regional dialogue on taxation issues for regional integration, particularly related to withholding tax and double taxation. This will also serve as a mechanism to strengthen cooperation in tax matters. We tasked the relevant officials to organise this group and commence their meeting this year. We look forward to the outcome of the group’s discussion at our next meeting.

ASEAN Cooperation in Insurance

18. We discussed the challenges and vulnerability of the region to disasters caused by natural hazards, including the economic cost of disaster losses. Keeping in mind the economic and fiscal burden in the aftermath of a disaster, we reiterated the need for disaster risk financing in the insurance markets in the region. To this end, we tasked our insurance officials to explore risk financing options and mechanisms that can be developed as part of the regional framework for disaster management and disaster risk reduction.

Engaging and Building a Stronger ASEAN in Post-global crisis

19. In fulfilling the mandates given by our Leaders to sustain and accelerate growth, we remain committed to act together toward achieving this responsibility. Our main priority action is to implement appropriate macroeconomic policies, complemented by structural reforms particularly those that enhance the stability of our financial markets. We will ensure that our actions will contribute to the global recovery and strong, sustainable, and balanced growth in the Asian region. We stand ready to bolster the prospects for effective economic policy cooperation and coordination. To this end, we welcome the proposal by Indonesia to host the 2011 ASEAN Finance Ministers’ Investor Seminar to promote ASEAN as an asset class.

20. We thanked the Republic of Indonesia for hosting the 15th AFMM this year and welcomed Cambodia as the next host of the AFMM in early April 2012.

2. The Ministers recognised the importance of the fisheries sector in ASEAN and the major role it plays in the three ASEAN Communities – Political Security, Economic and Socio-cultural. They also recognised the sector’s role in contributing to national development, food security, sustainable development and the improvement of livelihoods, as well as its important contribution towards the realisation of an integrated ASEAN Community and achieving the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs).

3. The Ministers expressed satisfaction with the improved cooperation and progress made by the Member States in the implementation of the ASEAN-SEAFDEC Resolution and Plan of Action on Sustainable Fisheries for Food Security for the ASEAN Region that was adopted by the ASEAN-SEAFDEC Ministers responsible for fisheries during the ASEAN-SEAFDEC Conference on Sustainable Fisheries for Food Security in the New Millennium “Fish for the People” on 24 November 2001.

4. The Ministers recognised the emerging challenges and changing environment facing the fisheries sector, particularly the degraded status of fisheries resources and their associated habitats, rapid changes in trade and market measures, and the potential adverse impacts of the changing environment brought about by climate change, among others. These challenges require closer cooperation and innovative interventions to enhance the adaptive capacity of the sector in the context of ASEAN Community Building and beyond.

5. The Ministers emphasised the importance of the “Fish for the People 2020: Adaptation to a Changing Environment” Conference and the Ministerial Meeting as venue for fostering dialogue on fisheries issues at the ASEAN-SEAFDEC ministerial level with the aim of promoting and enhancing cooperation towards achieving sustainable fisheries for food security and improving livelihoods and the well-being of the ASEAN people, in the context of a changing environment in the coming decade.
6. The Ministers, in recognising the importance of this event, commended the collaboration between ASEAN and SEAFDEC for making the Conference a success under the ASEAN-SEAFDEC Strategic Partnership (ASSP) and for providing a cooperative platform between ASEAN and SEAFDEC to achieve the long-term common goals towards sustainable fisheries development.

7. During the Conference, issues and concerns on the current fisheries situation as well as emerging issues that could impede sustainable development and hinder the contribution of fisheries to food security were discussed. The technical session of the Conference considered issues related to: enhancing governance in fisheries management; sustainable aquaculture development; an ecosystem approach to fisheries; post-harvest and safety of fish and fisheries products; emerging requirements for trade in fish and fisheries products; climate change adaptation and mitigation; livelihoods of fishing communities; prospects of employment in fisheries-related activities; and sustaining food supply from inland fisheries.

8. The Ministers expressed their appreciation for the assistance and support given by the various international and regional organisations including the Food and Agriculture Organisation of the United Nations (FAO), as well as the technical experts from within and outside the region for their contribution to the series of preparatory works that led to the successful Conference. Special gratitude was extended to the ASEAN Foundation, the Government of Japan and USAID for their generous financial support.

ASEAN Ministers on Energy Meeting (AMEM)

Joint Ministerial Statement of the 29th ASEAN Ministers on Energy Meeting (AMEM)

Jerudong, Brunei Darussalam, 20 September 2011

“ASEAN Connectivity”

1. The 29th ASEAN Ministers on Energy Meeting (AMEM) was held in Jerudong, Brunei Darussalam on 20 September 2011. Hon. Pehin Dato (Dr) Mohammad Yasmin Umar, Minister of Energy at the Prime Minister’s Office of Brunei Darussalam chaired the Meeting. H.E. Dr Ith Praing, Secretary of State, Ministry of Industry, Mines and Energy of Cambodia was the Vice-Chairperson. The 8th Meeting of Energy Ministers of the ASEAN Plus Three countries (ASEAN, China, Japan and the Republic of Korea), the 5th East Asian Summit Energy Ministers Meeting, and a consultation with the International Energy Agency were also held on this occasion.

2. The 29th AMEM was officiated by Hon. Pehin Dato (Dr) Mohammad Yassin Umar, Minister of Energy at the Prime Minister’s Office of Brunei Darussalam. In his Opening Remarks, Hon.e Pehin Dato (Dr) Mohammad Yassin Umar recalled the Statement of ASEAN Leaders on ASEAN Connectivity and its key strategies and actions to enhance physical, institutional, and people-to-people connectivity in the region. The Minister emphasised that the 29th AMEM is the first AMEM meeting since the adoption of the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity, hence it is important for AMEM to discuss directions and targets of key energy matters crucial to the realisation of both the ASEAN Connectivity and eventually the aspiration of an ASEAN Community by 2015.

3. Hon. Pehin Dato (Dr) Mohammad Yassin Umar highlighted the importance of the private sector and international assistance in implementing the ASEAN interests and initiatives. In this regard, the Minister welcomed all ASEAN delegates, Dialogue Partners, international organisations and the private sector to the 29th AMEM, and invited all to attend a series of activities in the ASEAN Energy Business Forum, Ministers-CEOs Dialogue, and the Brunei Energy Expo (BEE2011) which will be held from 21 – 23 September 2011.

Golden Opportunity for ASEAN Energy Connectivity

4. The Ministers commended the work completed by senior officials and various working groups and noted the good progress made in the implementation of the ASEAN Plan of Action on Energy Cooperation (APAEC) 2010 – 2015 which was steadily advancing regional energy cooperation and building the ASEAN Community while playing a visible role in the global efforts to address climate change.

5. The Ministers recognised the greater volatility in global energy markets due to economic uncertainty in several developed countries, political instability in the Middle East and North Africa, and renewed concerns over the use of nuclear power following the March 2011 earthquake and nuclear accidents in Japan. As ASEAN steps up efforts on regional integration and connectivity activities, the Ministers re-affirmed the ASEAN Leaders’ statement to collaborate on more concrete and action oriented programs to boost energy efficiency and conservation, and find viable renewable energy sources, so as to reduce the region’s dependence on oil and other fossil fuels.

6. The Ministers expressed sympathy and solidarity with Japan over the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear accident. In line with the ASEAN Leaders’ statement at the 16th ASEAN Summit on 7-8 May 2011 and the ASEAN statement at the IAEA Ministerial Conference on Nuclear Safety on 20-24 June 2011, the Ministers reaffirmed that ASEAN should engage, where appropriate, in information-sharing so as to promote transparency on relevant nuclear-related issues in the region. Noting the potential trans-boundary impact of accidents at nuclear installations, ASEAN should also strengthen cooperation in building up regional nuclear emergency preparedness and response mechanisms and develop a coordinated approach that would contribute to global undertakings to improve nuclear safety. ASEAN should also promote and uphold IAEA standards of safety and security in the development of civilian nuclear energy. The Ministers also tasked the Senior Officials to develop a robust work programme, in collaboration with the IAEA and other relevant partners, to promote and intensify capacity building efforts so that the region will be more informed and up to speed with the latest nuclear safety standards, developments and technologies. Senior Officials should develop and implement the work programme and report to the 30th AMEM.

7. The Ministers were cognisant of the need to boost infrastructural connectivity to open new market opportunities and boost overall energy security. The Ministers agreed to expedite regional connectivity projects in the power, oil and gas sectors; to facilitate energy trade, investment and services; and to enhance cooperation with partner countries to promote robust East Asian energy connectivity.

8. In this regard, the Ministers welcomed regional efforts in the finalisation of the guidelines to speed up the implementation of the ASEAN Power Grid, notably on the following issues: reliability of operation; safety standards and procedures in generation and transmission; the reference model for investments in the interconnection projects; and issues concerning cross-border sales and transmission of electricity. The Ministers tasked Senior Officials and HAPUA to work in tandem with the ASEAN Energy Regulators Network to expedite the harmonisation of regulatory practices and technical standards, and to report outcomes at the 30th AMEM. The Ministers also noted that bilateral and sub-regional arrangements would play a key role in realising the ASEAN Power Grid. The Ministers further acknowledged that private sector involvement would catalyse the implementation of the ASEAN Power Grid, and tasked HAPUA to recommend steps to enhance private sector engagement.

9. The Ministers also noted the progress in the implementation and realisation of the Trans-ASEAN Gas Pipeline Infrastructure Project, including infrastructure for LNG trading, and ratification of the ASEAN Petroleum Security Agreement and its operationalisation plans, and other cooperation modalities, such as the establishment of a common regional framework, to facilitate more oil and gas trading and marketing within the region. This will ensure greater energy security of gas supply for the region. The Ministers further noted the necessary extension of the TAGP Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to another term of 10 years in view of the new strategic directions TAGP has to undertake.

10. The Ministers also took note of the works being done on ASEAN Fuel Policy for Power Generation, particularly the recommendations to apply the six key principles, namely: 1) Diversity and Sufficiency of Supply Sources, 2) Diversity and Accessibility of Supply Routes, 3) Diversity and Maturity of Technologies, 4) Emergency Preparedness, 5) Demand Management and Responses and 6) Clean and Sustainable Development. The Ministers also agreed that pursuing the realisation and harmonised operation of the ASEAN Power Grid and Trans-ASEAN Gas Pipeline projects would contribute to the success of ASEAN Fuel Policy for Power Generation.

9. The Ministers thanked all parties in their efforts and activities to get a closer reach to the agreed aspirational goal on reducing regional energy intensity of at least 8% by 2015 (based on 2005 levels), and the collective target of 15% of total installed power capacity from renewable energy sources by 2015. The Ministers also agreed to consider a higher level of commitment in terms of energy intensity reduction and installation of renewable energy beyond 2015 in reference to other international and regional commitments.

10. The Ministers noted constructive cooperation outcomes with Dialogue Partners and international organisations, in particular efforts to balance energy security with the goals of economic development and environmental protection. The Ministers concluded a Memorandum of Understanding on Energy Cooperation between ASEAN and IEA to strengthen cooperation and to assist ASEAN in the implementation of its energy objectives, goals and measures as set out in the APAEC. In this regard, the Ministers endorsed that ASEAN and IEA would jointly work to develop an ASEAN chapter in IEA's Energy Technology Perspectives (ETP) 2012 and thereafter to develop a 'Technology Prospects' on the ASEAN Power Generation Sector. The Ministers affirmed that this ASEAN-IEA initiative would greatly enhance the development and deployment of clean energy technologies in the region towards a low carbon future. The Ministers also noted that concrete progress have been made with ADB to establish the ASEAN Energy Regulators Network as well as with UNEP on sustainable buildings. In welcoming more engagements and dialogues with other interested parties, Ministers expressed the need to speed up implementation of the APAEC 2010-2015, including the promotion and implementation of affordable and sustainable energy in the ASEAN region.

11. The Ministers stressed that this was a golden opportunity for the energy sector to seize the momentum of ASEAN Connectivity. To further strengthen energy cooperation within ASEAN and with Dialogue Partners, international organisations, Ministers expressed that greater private sector participation is needed for the implementation of the energy connectivity projects. In this regard, Ministers congratulated the winners of the ASEAN Energy Awards for their efforts to raise awareness in energy efficiency and sustainable development. The Ministers also noted the plans to work with the US-ASEAN Business Council, including initiatives to embrace smart energy management in their economic activities, and to provide affordable and stable sources of energy in rural areas.

Vision for the ASEAN Energy Sector

12. The Ministers highlighted the need to ensure ASEAN’s continued resilience and growth in a sustainable manner to cope with the increasing energy challenges. In this regard, the Ministers agreed to work towards having a higher percentage of renewable energy sources and new energy technologies, such as cleaner coal technology, in the regional energy mix. In this process, the Ministers agreed on the need to study and revitalise ASEAN cooperation on renewable energy and develop a high-performing institution within the region to provide options and strategies in the building of a coherent, coordinated, focused and robust energy agenda and strategy for ASEAN.

13. Noting the progress of several concrete energy projects, e.g. the Promotion on Energy Efficiency and Conservation (PROMEEC), certification of energy managers and energy end-users under the ASEAN Energy Manager Accreditation Scheme (AEMAS), the ASEAN Energy Awards, the ASEAN Renewable Energy Centre, ASEAN – Germany Renewable Energy Support Program for ASEAN (ASEAN-RESP), ASEAN+3 for Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) and Nuclear Energy Cooperation programmes, the Ministers were of the view that the region should adopt a balanced approach. While promoting the ASEAN-led initiatives, in cooperation with relevant Dialogue Partners, international organisations, and the private sector, and in the networking of ASEAN research and development centers, the Ministers reiterated the need for effective project management process so as to ensure that the relevant outcomes and recommendations from the various projects are translated into the practical policy and regulatory options.

14. The Ministers were encouraged by the development and progress of the ASEAN Plus Three and EAS Energy Cooperation, and welcomed the participation of Russia and the US in EAS Energy Cooperation. The Ministers, while recognising the benefits of having more inclusive frameworks for cooperation with various core expertise from individual countries, reiterated the importance of streamlining the energy cooperation process under the ASEAN Plus Three and the EAS platform to minimise any possible duplication.

Next Meeting

15. The Ministers agreed to convene the 30th ASEAN Ministers on Energy Meeting and its Related Meetings with Dialogue Partners in Cambodia in 2012.

Chairman’s Statement of the 14th ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Science and Technology (AMMST-14)

Ho Chi Minh City, Viet Nam, 26 November 2011

1. The 14th ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Science and Technology (AMMST-14) was held on 26 November 2011 in Ho Chi Minh City, Viet Nam. The Meeting was chaired by H.E. Dr. Nguyen Quan, Minister of Science and Technology, Viet Nam, and attended by Science and Technology Ministers and Senior Officials from the ten ASEAN Member States. The Deputy Secretary General of ASEAN and his staff were also in attendance.

2. The Meeting noted that since the 6th Informal ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Science and Technology (IAMMST) was convened in Krabi, Thailand in December 2010, the ASEAN Committee on Science and Technology (COST) and its subsidiary bodies have met in May 2011 in Siem Reap, Cambodia and in Ho Chi Minh City, Viet Nam in November 2011 to discuss and report on the progress of implementation of the ASEAN Plan of Action on Science and Technology, the Krabi Initiative, and other directives of the S&T Ministers. The Meeting also noted that the ASEAN COST had Dialogue Meeting and consultation with the European Commission (EC) and the United States to further discuss the implementation details of agreed initiatives.

Progress of the ASEAN Plan of Action on Science and Technology (APAST)

3. The Ministers were pleased to note that the implementation plans of the six flagship programmes were enhanced according to a set of criteria indicated in the COST-endorsed monitoring and evaluation system. The Ministers further noted that since the 6th IAMMST, a total of 11 projects have been completed; 23 projects are in various stages of implementation; and 33 projects are still being appraised by ASEAN and its Dialogue Partners.

4. The Ministers welcomed the joint initiative of the ASEAN COST and the EU in marking 2012 as the ASEAN-EU Year of Science, Technology and Innovation (YoSTI). The 2012 YoSTI is part of the SEA-EU-NET programme and will be a year-long campaign with a series of activities that will be implemented to promote and raise the visibility of S&T cooperation between both regions.

5. The Ministers noted that COST shall embark on a transformational revolution and paradigm shift as defined in the Krabi Initiative and that while still anchored on science and technology, COST shall ensure that innovation benefiting the ASEAN peoples will be the ultimate goal of S&T collaboration in ASEAN. To this end, COST has agreed to engage in a special retreat next year in Myanmar to exchange views and agree on concrete actions to make its initiatives more meaningful.

Report on the Study of State of S&T Development in ASEAN

6. The Ministers noted the key findings and recommendations indicated in the executive summary of the report on the study. ASEAN Member States were requested to review and provide additional inputs to enhance the report. The Ministers were of the view that the study could be a useful reference for COST and its subsidiary bodies in the planning and implementation of APAST and the Krabi Initiative.

7. The Ministers appreciated the work of the two experts from Indonesia and the Philippines and the focal points from all AMS who were involved in the study. The Ministers also requested the ASEAN Secretariat to convey their appreciation to Japan for its support for the conduct of the study.

Cooperation with Dialogue Partners

8. The Ministers noted the interest of China to renew cooperation with COST through the signing of an ASEAN-China Memorandum of Agreement (MoA) on science and technology. The Ministers noted that COST also affirms its interest to continue engaging in S&T cooperation with China with or without any formal instruments. In this regard, Viet Nam, as country coordinator for China, shall work closely with the ASEAN Secretariat and the Sub-Committee on S&T Infrastructure and Resource Development (SCIRD) to study the proposal for further consideration of COST and the AMMST.

9. The Ministers welcomed the offer of the Republic of Korea to formalise its cooperation with COST through the setting up of an ASEAN-ROK Joint Science and Technology Committee (JSTC). The Ministers noted that COST also affirms its interest to continue engaging in S&T cooperation with China with or without any formal instruments. In this regard, Viet Nam, as country coordinator for China, shall work closely with the ASEAN Secretariat and the Sub-Committee on S&T Infrastructure and Resource Development (SCIRD) to study the proposal for further consideration of COST and the AMMST.

ASEAN Science Fund

11. The Ministers were pleased to note that the contributions of the AMS to the ASEAN Science Fund (ASF) will be completed before the end of this year. The Ministers requested COST, through its Advisory Body on the ASF (ABASF) to report to the next Ministerial Meeting the outcome of the ABASF’s study in finding innovative and creative ways so that the ASF could generate higher interest returns and to review the guidelines on the use of the ASF to determine the feasibility of using not only the earnings but also a portion of the ASF principal amount to support major S&T initiatives.

Next Meeting of the ASEAN S&T Ministers

A DECADE OF SUCCESSFUL COOPERATION

9. This Ministerial Meeting marked a critical milestone on the road of ASEAN cooperation in ICT. The Ministers reviewed the first decade of ASEAN’s journey in ICT cooperation and were pleased with the successful outcomes and extraordinary progress made.

10. Guided by the e-ASEAN Framework Agreement signed by the ASEAN Leaders in 2000, the first TELMIN on 13 July 2001 has called for harnessing ICT to foster closer regional economic integration, enhance overall competitiveness and to develop an ASEAN Information Society. Since then, a number of high level policy documents have been adopted and measures are being implemented to follow, amongst others, the e-ASEAN Integration Roadmap, the Ministerial Declarations and the ICT pillar in the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) Blueprint, to realise the Kuala Lumpur Ministerial Understanding on ASEAN Cooperation in Telecommunications and Information Technology’s objectives and to bring ASEAN ICT cooperation to a higher level.
11. The 10 years of cooperation have yielded meaningful outcomes which contributed to the change in the ASEAN ICT landscape and led to an influential shift in the way essential services are delivered, from e-health to e-education, e-commerce and e-government.

12. The successful implementation of the e-ASEAN Integration Roadmap (2004-2010) has achieved its objectives in mobilising regional efforts to (a) establish the ASEAN Information Infrastructure; (b) promote and facilitate the growth of e-commerce in ASEAN; (c) liberalise and facilitate trade in ICT products, services and investments in support of the e-ASEAN initiative; (d) promote investments in the production of ICT products and the provision of ICT services; (e) strengthen e-ASEAN capacity building to reduce the digital divide within and amongst ASEAN Member States; and (f) to use ICT applications in the delivery of government services.

13. The Ministers acknowledged that ASEAN ICT sector, through the programmes managed by the ASEAN Telecommunications and IT Senior Officials (TELSOM) and ASEAN Telecommunication Regulators' Council (ATRC), has showcased a great sense of regional cooperation and ownership. The ICT sector has contributed significantly to economic growth and social development in ASEAN and takes a strategic role and becomes a powerful tool for achieving the United Nations Millennium Development Goals.

14. The Ministers commended the TELSOM, ATRC, the various Working Groups, the ASEAN ICT Centre (AICTC) and the ASEAN Secretariat for their tremendous efforts in carrying out the cooperation activities and programmes that made the success of ASEAN ICT cooperation in the last decade possible. The Ministers also commended the founding officials of the AICTC for their dedication, tireless efforts, outstanding contribution and achievement in managing the successful implementation of the ASEAN ICT priority projects.

15. The ASEAN Ministers expressed their high appreciation to ASEAN Dialogue Partners, notably China, Japan, Republic of Korea, European Union and India, amongst others, for the provision of invaluable assistance, both technical and financial, which significantly contributed to the successful implementation of the ASEAN ICT cooperation programmes and projects.

AIM 2015: TOWARDS AN EMPOWERING AND TRANSFORMATIONAL ICT

16. Building on the achievements made in the last decade, the Ministers vowed to further intensify their collective efforts in enhancing ASEAN ICT cooperation and integration to a new level to effectively contribute to the successful realisation of the ASEAN Community by 2015. The Ministers agreed to chart out an execution plan for the development of the ASEAN ICT sector by 2015 and beyond in an integrated manner to support other sectors in the implementation of the ASEAN Economic Community Blueprint, the Roadmap for an ASEAN Community, and the Master Plan of ASEAN Connectivity.

17. In this regard, the Ministers issued the Kuala Lumpur Statement on “ICT: Positioning ASEAN for the Future”, which officially announced the adoption of the ASEAN ICT Masterplan 2015 (“AIM2015”) with the Vision “Towards an Empowering and Transformational ICT: Creating an Inclusive, Vibrant and Integrated ASEAN”.

18. The AIM2015 is a comprehensive plan of specific actions and projects with clear targets and timelines in six strategic thrusts to be implemented in the next five years and beyond with the aim to deliver four key outcomes, namely: (i) ICT as an engine of growth for ASEAN Member States, (ii) Recognition for ASEAN as a global ICT hub, (iii) Enhanced quality of life for the peoples of ASEAN, and (iv) Contribution towards ASEAN integration.

19. The Ministers welcomed and invited all relevant stakeholders and parties to support and actively contribute to the implementation of actions and measures embodied in the AIM2015 for the successful realisation of its objectives in a timely manner.

20. The Ministers tasked TELSOM to review the existing ICT cooperation, amongst others, the ASEAN E-Commerce Database, International Mobile Data Roaming Charges, and CA-CA (Certificate Authority) Interoperability Framework in ASEAN Projects, and the available funding sources to come up with the recommendations for the implementation of the AIM2015 for the consideration of the Ministers at their next Meeting.

21. The Ministers welcomed the adoption the Record of Intent (ROI) by ATRC, which will be an additional instrument to foster ATRC cooperation, especially on strengthening cooperation and collaboration in the areas of telecommunications regulations to effectively facilitate the development of the telecommunications industry, serve consumers and accelerate the growth and development of the industry. The Ministers noted that the ATRC ROI will further promote regional cooperation on ICT regulatory practices, policy strategies and coordination on ICT standards and radio frequency, which will be helpful in implementing the AIM2015.

Implementation Framework of the ASEAN Single Aviation Market

Phnom Penh, Cambodia, 15 December 2011

I. INTRODUCTION
1. Recognising that a well-integrated and sustainable air transportation network is imperative for the acceleration of ASEAN’s economic development and market integration and to enable ASEAN to leverage its location at the cross roads of Northeast Asia, South Asia and Oceania to grow ASEAN’s strategic significance to Asia, the 13th ASEAN Summit endorsed the initiative of establishing an ASEAN Single Aviation Market (ASAM) by 2015 in support of the development of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC).

2. The development of the ASAM would include necessary actions and measures essential in improving the overall performance of the ASEAN air transport sector with respect to the independence, sovereignty, equality, territorial integrity and national identity of all ASEAN Member States. The ASAM will contribute towards a more competitive and resilient ASEAN, as it will bring people closer together and facilitate the efficient, safe and secure movement of goods, services, and capital closer together.

3. A common and coordinated approach in the areas of aviation safety, aviation security and air traffic management will facilitate the formation of the ASAM and further encourage the growth of the regional aviation sector. Recognising that this is expected to require extensive work, it is essential for ASEAN Member States to lay a framework for the implementation of the ASAM so that coordination work among ASEAN Member States can begin as soon as possible.

II. OBJECTIVE
4. The objective of this Implementation Framework is to pursue progressive development of the ASAM that is consistent with and supportive of the ASEAN Leaders’ commitment in the establishment of the AEC. This seeks also to implement the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity and the Brunei Action Plan 2011-2015, both of which have identified the formulation of an ASAM Roadmap and its implementation strategy as a key action item.

III. ASPIRATIONS OF THE ASAM
5. The AEC aims to create a prosperous, highly competitive and economically integrated market and production base in ASEAN by 2015. The ASAM is one of the key pillars supporting the establishment of the AEC via facilitating the free, efficient, safe and secure movement of people and goods within and potentially beyond ASEAN.

6. In line with the goals set for the AEC, ASEAN Member States aspire to:
   (a) take necessary measures towards creating an efficient and competitive air transport market characterised by open market access, thereby contributing to the economic growth, competitiveness and shared prosperity of ASEAN;
   (b) move decisively towards a flexible business operating environment for the ASEAN air transport industry to foster its growth and facilitate its timely response to challenges and opportunities;
   (c) formulate consistent principles, guidelines and regulations related to activities in the ASEAN air transport sector to foster fair competition and a level playing field;
   (d) enhance aviation safety, aviation security and air traffic management through the harmonisation and convergence of standards and procedures regionally; and
   (e) further strengthen engagement with Dialogue Partners in the development of the ASEAN air transport sector, while maintaining ASEAN's centrality as the primary driving force.

IV. COVERAGE

7. Key elements of the ASAM are:

   A. Economic Elements
      (a) market access;
      (b) charters;
      (c) airline ownership and control;
      (d) tariffs;
      (e) commercial activities;
      (f) competition law and policy/state aid;
      (g) consumer protection;
      (h) airport user charges;
      (i) dispute resolution; and
      (j) dialogue partner engagement.

   B. Technical Elements
      (a) aviation safety;
      (b) aviation security; and
      (c) air traffic management.

V. SPECIFIC MEASURES

8. This Implementation Framework contains a Roadmap that provides specific time-bound measures that ASEAN Member States shall pursue in order to achieve the ASAM.

VI. IMPLEMENTATION MECHANISM

9. The ASEAN Senior Transport Officials through the Air Transport Working Group (ATWG) shall coordinate the overall implementation of measures and actions specified under this Implementation Framework. The ATWG shall be supported by the ASEAN Air Transport Economic Cooperation and the ASEAN Air Transport Technical Cooperation Sub-Working Groups.

10. Regular consultations with relevant ASEAN sectoral bodies, international organisations, private sector, industry associations and wider community at the regional and national levels will also be actively sought to ensure participation of all stakeholders in establishing the ASAM.

11. The ‘ASEAN Minus X formula’ may be invoked in the implementation of agreed measures of the ASAM. Flexibility should be accorded in the implementation of the ASAM, which shall be pre-agreed and not delay the overall progress and implementation of the ASAM.

12. Support for the implementation of the measures under this Implementation Framework can be sought from various stakeholders including ASEAN Dialogue Partners.

13. Two-yearly Work Plans will be developed for the implementation of the measures under the Roadmap.

14. The Roadmap under this Implementation Framework may be periodically reviewed to ensure that the Roadmap remains relevant and in keeping with the development of the ASAM.

1. The 14th Meeting of ASEAN Tourism Ministers (14th M-ATM) was held on 17 January 2011 in Phnom Penh, Cambodia in conjunction with the ASEAN Tourism Forum 2011 (ATF 2011). The Meeting was preceded by the Thirty-Third Meeting of ASEAN National Organisations and other ASEAN NTOs meetings with Dialogue Partners. The Meeting was chaired by H.E. Dr. Thong Khon, Minister of Tourism of Cambodia, with H.E. Mr. Jero Wacik, Minister of Culture and Tourism of Indonesia, acting as Vice Chairman.

2. The Ministers were pleased to note the positive arrivals growth of visitor arrivals into ASEAN. Preliminary figures show that ASEAN attracted more than 65 million visitors last year, posting a healthy 12 per cent growth. Intra-ASEAN travel continued to be a major share of tourists, making up 45% of total international arrivals.

ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan 2011-2015

3. The Ministers were pleased to note the completion of all projects and activities under the Roadmap for Integration of Tourism Sector (RITS) which expired in 2010. Acknowledging the importance of tourism as an economic engine and a tool for development and change in the region, the Ministers adopted the ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan (ATSP) 2011-2015. This ATSP contributes to the overall goals of the ASEAN Community by 2015 through promotion of growth, international and competitiveness of the tourism sector and at the same time deepening social and cultural understanding as well as facilitating travel into and within ASEAN. The ATSP provides a balanced set of actions and activities to realise the following vision:

“By 2015, ASEAN will provide an increasing number of visitors to the region with authentic and diverse products, enhanced connectivity, a safe and secure environment, increased quality of services, while at the same time ensuring an increased quality of life and opportunities for residents through responsible and sustainable tourism development by working effectively with a wide range of stakeholders.”

4. The Ministers emphasized the need for effective and on-schedule implementation of ATSP 2011-2015. The Ministers requested ASEAN NTOs to coordinate and oversee the implementation of ATSP and to report the progress of its implementation on a regular basis. ASEAN Health Ministers Meeting (AHMM)

Jakarta Call for Action on the Control and Prevention of Dengue

Jakarta, Indonesia
15 June 2011

WE, THE PARTICIPANTS of the ASEAN Dengue Conference from Brunei Darussalam, the Kingdom of Cambodia, the Republic of Indonesia, the Lao People’s Democratic Republic, Malaysia, the Republic of Union of Myanmar, the Republic of the Philippines, the Republic of Singapore, the Kingdom of Thailand and the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam, and other international development partners, held in Jakarta, Indonesia on 15 June 2011,

NOTE WITH CONCERN THAT;

1. It is estimated that nearly 50 to 100 million dengue infections with 20,000 deaths occur annually worldwide, 75% of which occurs in the Asia Pacific Region.
2. ASEAN Member States currently have the highest number of dengue infections in the Asia Pacific Region.
3. These dengue cases and deaths have socio-economic impact in ASEAN Member States.
4. ASEAN Member States have developed programs to prevent and control dengue infections, however these need to be aligned to regional strategies and involve all relevant stakeholders.
5. There has been progress in public-private partnerships; however, these need to be strengthened.
6. There is a need to sustain initial successes in global, regional, and national efforts to control and prevent this infection.

ACKNOWLEDGE THAT:

1. World Health Organization Global Strategy on Dengue, emphasizes on integrated vector management with community and intersectoral participations in which control is directed towards geographic areas of highest risk of transmission in the most cost effective manner.
2. As part of WHO Global Strategy on Dengue, the Asia Pacific Dengue Strategic Plan (2008-2015) was endorsed by Member States of the South East Asia Region and the Western Pacific Region focusing on reversing the increasing trend of dengue.

8. The Meeting expressed their appreciation to the Government of Thailand for organising the 1st MSC Mekong Meeting and the excellent arrangements made and hospitality provided.

States in the Mekong Sub-Region on fire and haze pollution control, following the successful experiences of the Sub-Regional Ministerial Steering Committee in the southern ASEAN region. The Ministers adopted the proposals to build up capabilities for fire suppression and to enhance bilateral collaboration among the MSC Mekong countries, and to participate in the ASEAN-wide Fire Danger Rating System, the Regional Haze Training Network and in resource mobilisation.

3. The Meeting noted the ASEAN Specialised Meteorological Centre’s (ASMC’s) weather outlook of wet weather interspersed with periods of dry condition for the next few months. With the possibility of the prevailing La Nina weakening to neutral conditions in the second half of the year, wetter weather conditions are expected with the start of the traditional rainy season around June 2011. While hotspot activities are mostly subdued due to the wet weather conditions, sporadic outbreaks can be expected during short occasional dry spells. The MSC Mekong countries agreed to continue to be vigilant and to prevent and mitigate land and forest fires during periods of dry weather.

4. The Meeting discussed various initiatives to mitigate land and forest fires and to control smoke haze pollution. The Meeting endorsed and agreed to work towards a sub-regional target of (i) reducing cumulative hotspot count not exceeding 75,000 hotspots (based on 2008 data) to be achieved by 2011; and (ii) reducing cumulative hotspot count not exceeding 50,000 hotspots (based on 2006 data) to be achieved by 2015. The individual MSC Mekong countries agreed to set their respective national targets for hotspot count reduction in order to achieve the sub-regional targets.

5. The Meeting agreed to strengthen the capacity of MSC Mekong countries to monitor air quality in particular PM10, including installation of air quality monitoring stations and provision of hands-on training, which will enable improved fire and haze monitoring as required in the ASEAN Haze Agreement.

6. In this respect, the Meeting expressed their appreciation to Thailand for mobilising their mobile air quality monitoring units to Lao PDR and Myanmar during the dry season of 2010 and its commitment to provide such cooperation in 2011. The Meeting also noted the approved bilateral project between Thailand and Lao PDR, which includes the installation of one fully equipped air quality monitoring station and one PM10 high volume air sampler in Lao PDR by Thailand.

7. The Meeting noted the good progress of the ASEAN Peatland Forests Project (APFP), which aims to promote the sustainable management of peatlands in ASEAN to sustain local livelihoods, reduce the risk of fires and associated haze and contribute to global environmental management. The Ministers also acknowledged the recently approved grant from the European Commission that would enable site-level work on peatland areas and capacity building on peatland management for the Mekong countries. The Meeting also supported the efforts to develop a proposal titled “Transboundary Haze and GHG Emissions Reduction through Land/Forest Fire Reduction in Northern ASEAN” for funding support from the Global Environment Facility.
3. The Asia Pacific Dengue Strategic Plan is in line with the Asia Pacific Strategy for Emerging Diseases (APSED). APSED is a bi-regional strategy endorsed by Member States of the WHO South East Asia Region and Western Pacific Region, to strengthen national and regional capacities to manage and respond to emerging disease threats including Dengue.

4. Academic institutions, scientists, researchers have made significant contributions to understanding the disease which in turn has been widely used as the basis for evidence based management.

RECOGNIZE THAT:

1. ASEAN Member States have prioritized Dengue as one of the communicable diseases to be addressed, following the mandate of ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Blueprint endorsed by ASEAN Leaders in 2009.

2. ASEAN Strategic Framework on Health Development (2010 – 2015), as endorsed by the ASEAN Health Minister Meeting in 2010, provided the operational guideline in the control of communicable diseases including dengue.

3. The 10th ASEAN Health Ministers Meeting in 2010 also agreed to designate every 15th of June as the ASEAN dengue day commencing in 2011 to increase public awareness of dengue infection.

4. ASEAN Expert Group on Communicable Diseases is the health subsidiary body to plan regional interventions on communicable diseases including dengue.

CALL upon all stakeholders of ASEAN to Strengthen Regional Cooperation:

1. To ensure continuous effort towards the prevention and control of dengue in ASEAN Member States by enhancing regional preparedness and capacity through integrated approaches to surveillance prevention, and timely response for an outbreak;

2. To strengthen national and regional alert and response capacities in an efficient and sustainable way;

3. To share information, experiences and best practices in improving the access to primary health care by people at risk/vulnerable groups of Dengue through regional workshops, seminars, and exchange visits among the ASEAN Member State;

4. To encourage the close collaboration and create networks among the public and private sectors and civil society in addressing the effort to prevent dengue transmission

Strengthen Capacity in an efficient and sustainable way:

1. To put in place integrated vector management together with surveillance and control activities.

2. To improve core capacities of human resources.

3. To strengthen National Health Services for ensuring early diagnosis, and case management.

Promote Inter-sectoral Collaboration

1. To increase the awareness and understanding of non-health sectors of their roles and responsibilities in dengue prevention.

2. To move from reactive activities into long-term prevention and preparedness-driven activities involving health and non-health sectors.

3. To strengthen multi-sectoral planning to prevent and control dengue infection which has complex and multi-factorial dimensions.

4. To welcome and consider new and appropriate initiatives from public and private, health and non-health sectors, including but not limited to collaboration on research and development of dengue vaccines.

Statement by H.E. Dr. R. M. Marty M. Natalegawa
Minister for Foreign Affairs
Republic of Indonesia

At the Plenary of the High-level Meeting on “Non-communicable Diseases: Prevention and Control” United Nations General Assembly

New York, United States, 19 September 2011

Mr. President,

First of all, on behalf of ASEAN let me present our regional perspective on the matter at hand.

For ASEAN Member States, non-communicable diseases are a major challenge that compounds the deadly impact of communicable diseases.

A 2010 WHO Report showed that non-communicable diseases caused some 36.1 million deaths in 2008. Eighty percent of these deaths are caused by four main non-communicable diseases.
And low to middle income families suffered 80 percent of these deaths.

According to the WHO, NCDs-related deaths will increase by 17 percent over the next decade. And among ASEAN communities, deaths due to NCDs can increase from its current 2.6 million to 4.2 million people.

A scenario the region is not ready to address at this point.

At the global level, NCDs are affecting mostly working-age adults—thereby eroding the most productive generation in the world today. And thus reducing the gross domestic product of low to middle-income countries by as much as five percent.

This is one reason why poverty is so wide-spread. And why many countries suffered in backwardness.

Hence, we in ASEAN are working hard and in concert to address this grave challenge.

In our view, prevention is the key to resolving it.

Prevention is and will always be our priority.

We are therefore carrying out four major prevention strategies.

First and foremost, we in ASEAN are strengthening our health systems and infrastructures.

This includes mainstreaming NCD prevention and control alongside infectious disease prevention and control in national development programmes, and enhancing operations in health facilities from the lowest to the highest levels.

It includes raising the capabilities of human resources for medical care and developing effective referral systems.

We are also improving our surveillance systems on the diseases and the modifiable risk factors.

We are working toward universal health coverage and providing service packages that cater to the needs of people with chronic NCDs. In brief, we must have a comprehensive health system and infrastructure for addressing NCDs.

This is not an option. It is an imperative.

Second we are strengthening our national health policies and accelerating programmes for tobacco control.

We will not be content with passing laws that heavily tax cigarettes. We will use the revenues derived from sin taxes to support NCDs prevention.

We will continue to promote a smoke-free environment in order to protect our people from secondary smoke.

We are aligning national policies on agriculture, trade, industry and transport to improve diets, encourage physical exercise and reduce harmful alcohol use.

We are implementing community based intervention for early detection of factors of major NCDs.

Third we are strengthening partnerships for health.

The need for international cooperation for public health cannot be overemphasized.

Although the Millennium Development Goals do not include targets for the reduction of NCDs, individual efforts by ASEAN Member States warrant complementary coordinated support from our partners.

We appeal to our international partners to fund and align the prevention and control of NCDs with their other development programmes such as those of the MDGs and Climate Change.

We urge our development partners to fund researches on the unique public health problems of our region.

We call upon the international community to help us ensure that essential pharmaceutical products and medical devices are available to the region. This will help avert the devastating socioeconomic impact of NCDs on our societies.

In short, the partnership among countries is a must. Among developed and developing countries. At the global, regional and bilateral levels.

Last but not least, we are ensuring the involvement of all stakeholders.

To effectively respond to the challenges posed by NCDs we must enlist the participation of all stakeholders. ASEAN is therefore committed to implementing a whole-of-government people-centered approach involving civil society, the private sector and community organizations.

By taking these steps, we in ASEAN are confident that we will be able to contribute significantly to the global reduction of NCD death rate in this decade.

2. The AMMY VII was officially opened by the Prime Minister of Viet Nam, H.E Nguyen Tan Dung. He welcomed the Ministers and delegates to Ha Noi and underlined the significance of the AMMY VII Meeting as a milestone event in 2011. AMMY VII coincided with Viet Nam’s “Year of the Youth”, reflecting the acknowledgement and recognition by the Government and the People of Viet Nam of the significant role and contribution of young people. This designation of 2011 as the “Year of the Youth” also showed the commitment of Viet Nam in supporting and encouraging youth movements, and in facilitating and strengthening youth relationship between Viet Nam and ASEAN Member States.

3. In his keynote address, H.E. Prime Minister Nguyen Tan Dung emphasised the importance of investing in youth development and human resource development, and called upon more actions from the youth in contributing to the process of building an ASEAN Community by 2015. He affirmed that the AMMY VII’s theme was of relevance and very much needed as it addressed the significance of investing in the young generation of ASEAN.

4. At the AMMY VII, which was chaired by H.E. Assoc. Prof. Dr. Nguyen Duc Vinh, Chairman of the National Committee on Youth of Viet Nam, the Ministers reaffirmed the growing importance of youth cooperation in the region and exchanged views on ways to promote youth participation in building the ASEAN Community, as well as in the enhancement of human resource development, that is, in developing the youth towards a better future of the region. In this regard, the Ministers agreed on the need to increase cooperation in building entrepreneurial skills, cultivating an entrepreneurial mindset and in nurturing young talents through entrepreneurship and leadership development programmes. The Ministers thus welcomed and supported the “Hanoi Initiative” comprising two key programmes: (a) the ASEAN Young Leaders Exchange (AYLE); and (b) the ASEAN Young Entrepreneurs Festival (AYEF). The Hanoi Initiative reflects the ASEAN commitment to spur and strengthen ASEAN’s future generation of leaders and entrepreneurs. The Ministers tasked SOMY to work further on practical ways to realise those two programmes in the Ha Noi Initiative and report to AMMY by the next SOMY meeting in 2012 at the ASEAN Secretariat.

5. The Ministers further discussed how to accelerate implementation of the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC) Blueprint pertaining to youth development. In this regard, the Ministers noted that social entrepreneurship, leadership development, education, volunteerism, as well as the raising of ASEAN awareness, remain as cornerstones of youth development in ASEAN.

6. On volunteerism, the Ministers noted that it has been an element in the ASCC Blueprint as well as the ASEAN Youth work programme. With a view to establish the appropriate regional mechanism to support youth volunteerism in ASEAN, the Ministers supported the proposed establishment of an ASEAN Youth Volunteers Programme (AYVP) by Malaysia. Furthermore, it has been agreed that succeeding consultations at the national and regional level would be expedited. They also noted the constructive exchanges by SOMY Leaders at the Prep-SOM for AMMY VII meeting. The Ministers further requested SOMY to work on the proposal and report progress at the next SOMY Meeting.

7. On the proposed ASEAN Youth Programme Fund to support youth related projects and activities in ASEAN, the Ministers noted that further consultations with the relevant national level government agencies were needed to finalize the Terms of Reference (TOR) of the ASEAN Youth Programme Fund.

8. The Ministers expressed their appreciation to SOMY’s continuous effort to facilitate regular engagement and dialogue between ASEAN youths and ASEAN leaders/ministers through SOMY’s projects and activities. In this regard, the Ministers welcomed the joint statement produced by participants of the ASEAN Youth Forum and Festival 2011 on 3-8 May 2011 in Jakarta, where twenty participants (two from each ASEAN Member State) had the opportunity to meet with the ASEAN Leaders during the 18th ASEAN Summit on 7 May 2011 in Jakarta, to present their recommendations to the Leaders.

9. Noting that engagement of the youth at forums/events on the sidelines of the ASEAN Summit has become quite common, the Ministers agreed that SOMY and AMMY should continue to play a more active role in working with the host country to coordinate the participation and contributions of youth representatives from ASEAN Member States at such events as well as in their dialogue with the ASEAN Leaders, if any.

10. The Ministers noted the activities of the ASEAN Scout Association for Regional Cooperation (ASARC).

11. The Ministers expressed their appreciation to Viet Nam for the excellent arrangements and hospitality for the AMMY VII and its related Meetings. The meeting was held in the traditional spirit of ASEAN cordiality and solidarity.

2. The Forum was co-chaired by Ms Gillian Bird, Ambassador to ASEAN and Deputy Secretary of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade of Australia and Mr Bilahari Kausikan, Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Singapore.

3. The Forum celebrated Australia’s deep and enduring friendship with ASEAN, as its longest-standing Dialogue Partner. Participants welcomed the 2010 ASEAN-Australia Summit as a landmark event, underlining the strength and depth of Australia’s relationship with ASEAN, and looked forward to further summits in the future. The Forum also welcomed the outcomes of the recent ASEAN-Australia Post-Ministerial Conference in Bali. The Forum discussed future cooperation as ASEAN and Australia are moving towards the 40th anniversary of Australia-ASEAN relations in 2014, and ways to commemorate the occasion.

4. ASEAN expressed appreciation for the contributions of Australia through the ASEAN-Australia Development Cooperation Program Phase II (AADCPII), and the Economic Cooperation Support Program for the ASEAN-Australia-New Zealand Free Trade Agreement (AANZFTA), in supporting ASEAN’s economic integration agenda. The Forum welcomed the establishment of the ASEAN-Australia Joint Cooperation Committee (JCC) as a new consultative mechanism to enhance and deepen the Dialogue Partnership. The JCC will review the strategic direction of ASEAN-Australia development cooperation. The JCC will be a separate but complementary platform to existing management arrangements for activities under the AADCPII and AANZFTA Economic Cooperation Support Program. The Forum supported the early convening of the inaugural JCC.

5. The Forum welcomed the continued implementation of the AANZFTA. It acknowledged the importance of the AANZFTA in facilitating continued liberalisation of trade and investment in the region. The Forum agreed that while the significant momentum in trade in goods and economic cooperation has contributed to practical business outcomes and removal of impediments to business utilisation of AANZFTA, there was a need to continue efforts to reduce those impediments. The Forum agreed to enhance outreach efforts to raise awareness of such benefits.

6. The Forum recognised Australia’s valuable contribution to narrowing the development gap in the region, and to ASEAN’s community-building efforts through the implementation of the Plan of Action to Implement the Joint Declaration on the ASEAN-Australia Comprehensive Partnership (2008-2013). It warmly welcomed the growing body of cooperative work ASEAN and Australia are undertaking across a broad spectrum of areas including business and people-to-people links, disaster risk reduction and management, education, HIV/AIDS and emerging infectious diseases, rural development, climate change and the environment, counter-terrorism and cooperative mechanisms for combating transnational crime, including drug trafficking, trafficking in persons and people smuggling. The Forum acknowledged Australia’s proposed support for the ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights (AICHR) through the development of linkages with the Australian Human Rights Commission.

7. The Forum had a constructive discussion on regional developments including the evolving regional architecture in the context of the recent successful EAS Foreign Ministers’ Meeting. It discussed Australia and ASEAN’s close work together in the ASEAN+1 framework as well as the EAS and other ASEAN-centred fora, including the ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) and ASEAN Defence Ministers Meeting Plus (ADMM-Plus). The Forum recognised the constructive role played by ASEAN in driving the ARF to strengthen regional peace and stability through dialogue, consultation and cooperation. It highlighted the importance of the ARF transition to preventive diplomacy.

8. The Forum pledged to continue to advance EAS cooperation in the existing five priority areas of finance, energy, education, pandemic prevention and disaster management, which also complement the efforts undertaken in the ASEAN+1 framework, as well as connectivity in ASEAN and the region and the Comprehensive Economic Partnership in East Asia (CEPEA). The Forum also acknowledged the importance of maintaining and developing a substantive agenda in the EAS, including political-security issues, and welcomed the recent expansion of the EAS to include the United States and Russia. The Forum welcomed the convening in July 2011 of the inaugural EAS Education Ministers’ Meeting in Bali and the 3rd EAS Environment Ministers’ meeting to be held in October in Cambodia.

9. ASEAN welcomed Australia’s and Indonesia’s disaster management initiative for the EAS, to be considered by EAS leaders in November, and Australia’s support for ASEAN’s efforts to implement the ASEAN Agreement on Disaster Management and Emergency Relief (AADMER) and establish the ASEAN Co-ordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance (AHA Centre). It welcomed Australia’s participation in the March 2011 ARF disaster relief exercise, and its planned co-hosting in 2012, with Indonesia, of the next two ARF inter-sessional meetings on disaster relief.

I. Introduction

1. We, the Finance Ministers of ASEAN, China, Japan and Korea (ASEAN+3), convened our fourteenth meeting in Ha Noi, Viet Nam, under the co-chairmanship of H.E. Agus D.W. Martowardojo, Minister of Finance of the Republic of Indonesia and H.E. Yoshihiko Noda, Minister of Finance of Japan, with the first attendance of Mr. Benhua Wei, newly appointed Director of the ASEAN+3 Macroeconomic Research Office (AMRO). The President of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) was also present at our meeting.

2. We exchanged views on recent global and regional economic development and our policy management. We reviewed progress of the regional financial cooperation since our last Meeting including the Chiang Mai Initiative Multilateralisation (CMIM), the Asian Bond Markets Initiative (ABMI) and the ASEAN+3 Research Group. We also discussed how to further strengthen our regional financial cooperation in the future.

II. Recent Economic and Financial Developments in the Region

3. The economic growth in the region, after having weathered the global financial crisis, has been resilient owing to robust domestic demand and buoyant exports. However, we are mindful of the risk factors, such as rising inflation coming from higher commodity and food prices and large capital flows in some countries, which have complicated the task of macroeconomic policy management and have challenged sustainable economic growth of the region. New uncertainties have also surfaced, such as events in the Middle East and North Africa region and the impact of earthquake in Japan over the regional economy.

4. Against this backdrop, we are determined to remain vigilant towards any adverse impact of the risks and vulnerabilities to our economic development and to adopt appropriate macroeconomic policies. We confirmed the importance of promoting fiscal soundness for sustainable economic development. We reiterated our commitment to accelerate and deepen economic structural reforms, promote domestic demand and employment, resist protectionism and further promote trade and investment. In dealing with the large capital flows, we shared the view that it is important to take macroeconomic and other policies in a comprehensive manner, including macro-prudential measures when necessary. We are committed to strengthen regional macroeconomic policy dialogue and cooperation in order to jointly address potential risks.

5. In this connection, we welcomed that the Deputies deepened surveillance discussions regarding policy management to large capital flows and inflationary pressures in the region under the improved Economic Review and Policy Dialogue (ERPD). We encouraged them to utilize the inputs from the newly established AMRO.

6. We were pleased to note that the CMIM Agreement, effective on March 24, 2010, has played a positive role in safeguarding regional financial stability. In this context, we reiterated our commitment to further deepen regional financial cooperation in the years to come.

III. Strengthening Regional Financial Cooperation

[Chiang Mai Initiative Multilateralization (CMIM)]

7. We endorsed the “Operational Guidelines for Enhancing Effectiveness of CMIM”, which is the operational manual for the currency swaps made pursuant to the CMIM Agreement, including the CMIM’s activation process in relation to the existence of the IMF Programs. We believe that these Guidelines will contribute to swift and smooth activation of CMIM Agreement.

8. We welcomed the establishment of AMRO, which, as the surveillance unit of CMIM, plays an important role to monitor and analyze regional economies, and to contribute to early detection of risks, swift implementation of remedial actions, and effective decision-making of CMIM. We expect AMRO to be fully operational soon, and are committed to promote the smooth and efficient operation of AMRO. We instructed the Deputies to review AMRO’s organizational capacity at the next Deputies’ meeting so that AMRO could fully meet its objectives. We also instructed the Deputies to launch a study to strengthen the legal status of AMRO to constitute an international organization with an international legal personality.

9. We shared the view that, under the current global financial environment, crisis takes place on a global scale and it spreads in a short period of time. It has demonstrated the importance of crisis prevention measures to deter contagion. Considering that the regional financial arrangement needs to be adapted to this new environment, we instructed the Deputies to initiate a study on the design of a possible crisis prevention function for CMIM, including the size, further collaboration with the IMF, and the role of AMRO.

[Asian Bond Markets Initiative (ABMI)]

10. We welcomed establishment of the Credit Guarantee and Investment Facility (CGIF) last November with an initial capital of US$700 million. We expect the CGIF to initiate its guarantee operations in a timely manner, so that it could support issuance of corporate bonds and development of bond markets in the region.

11. We welcomed progress of ASEAN+3 Bond Market Forum (ABMF), a common platform to foster standardization of market practices and harmonization of regulations relating to cross-border bond transactions in the region. We recognized that, since its set-up, it has become an important forum for bond market experts of both public and private sectors in the region. We expect a stocktaking report on the current development of the member countries’ bond markets by the end of 2011. We also recognized the progress of work at the technical working group on legal and regulatory feasibility reassessment of Regional Settlement Intermediary (RSI). We expect the technical working group to move on to the reassessment of business feasibility study on RSI.

12. We recognized that the ABMI has contributed to developing efficient and liquid bond markets in the region since the start of its activities in 2003 so that large savings in the region can be better utilized to increase investments in the region. Given the significant economic development in the region, we tasked the Deputies to discuss how to further enhance the ABMI, focusing on its objective, scope, including capital market, and framework.

14. We acknowledged that the Research Group has played an important role in identifying and exploring subjects for possible regional financial cooperation from mid- and long-term point of views by mobilizing knowledge and expertise of private researchers and research institutions. We instructed the Deputies to look into how to further promote its activities and enhance interaction between ASEAN+3 officials and researchers.

[ Areas for future regional financial cooperation ]

15. We recognized that ASEAN+3 financial cooperation has presented significant achievements under such initiatives as CMIM, ABMI, ERPD and RG. We noted the work of the Taskforce on the Future Priorities of ASEAN+3 Financial Cooperation in assessing previous achievements and proposing new priority areas in order to bring regional financial cooperation to a higher and more strategic level. We tasked the Deputies to initiate studies, with the support from ADB as appropriate, in three possible areas for future cooperation: i) infrastructure financing, ii) disaster risk insurance, and iii) using local currencies for the regional trade settlement.

IV. Conclusion

16. We are of the view that, in order to strengthen regional economic monitoring and to enhance regional financial cooperation, the expertise and experiences held by the Central Bank Governors in the region are indispensable. LIST OF MINISTERS

Joint Ministerial Statement of the 5th East Asian Summit Energy Ministers Meeting

Jerudong, Brunei Darussalam, 20 September 2011

1. The 5th East Asia Summit (EAS) Energy Ministers Meeting (EMM) was held on 20 September 2011 in Bandar Seri Begawan, Brunei Darussalam. The Meeting was chaired by Hon. Pehin Dato Mohammad Yasmin Umar, Minister of Energy at the Prime Minister’s Office of Brunei Darussalam, and co-chaired by H.E. Keiro Kitagami, Vice Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry of Japan. The Meeting was attended by the Ministers and senior officials responsible for energy from the EAS Participating Countries, namely ASEAN Member States, Australia, People’s Republic of China, Republic of India, Japan, Republic of Korea, New Zealand, Russian Federation and the United States. The Secretary-General of ASEAN was also in attendance.

2. While recognising that the global energy demand is on an upward trend reflecting the recovery of the global economy over the past year, the Ministers warned of the likelihood of greater volatility in global energy markets in view of recent uncertainties in the developed economies going forward. However, noting that energy demand in Asia continues to register significant increases, the Ministers urged EAS to take full advantage of this shift in growth pattern with Asia as a background to enhance EAS energy cooperation to greater heights.

3. In this regard, to mitigate the growing demand for energy, the Ministers welcomed the energy-saving targets and action plans, made on a voluntary basis, and shared by the EAS countries concerned. The Ministers encouraged the continued updating and information sharing on the use of energy-saving technologies. The Ministers welcomed the implementation, on a voluntary basis, of the Energy Efficiency Roadmap Formulation Project in certain sectors of the interested countries and a fact-finding survey on sectoral energy-saving potentials that reflect the progress of action plans of the interested countries. The Ministers expressed appreciation to Lao PDR for hosting the Energy Efficiency Conference on 24 August 2011 and noted the Conference’s policy recommendations in the fields of energy efficiency and conservation, renewable energy, energy security and others.

4. The Ministers acknowledged the advancements made by the Biofuels for Transport and Other Purposes Work Stream through the enhancement of the Biofuels Database in East Asia, implementation of the Researcher’s Invitation Program, updating of the EAS-ERIA Biodiesel Fuel Trade Handbook, and upgrading of the sustainability assessment methodology for biomass utilisation. In furtherance of the Work Stream’s efforts, the Ministers recognised and welcomed its 2011-2012 Work Plan geared towards: i) the uploading of more data and information in the database whereby website links to focal organizations are established; ii) firm implementation of the researchers invitation program; iii) formulation of quality standard, as well as quality control and management methods to harmonise utilisation of biodiesel fuel in EAS; and iv) enhancement of research outputs for the establishment of a standardised biomass utilisation assessment methodology in EAS countries.

5. The Ministers reaffirmed the importance of establishing efficient, transparent, reliable, competitive and flexible energy markets as a means to provide affordable, secure and clean energy supplies for the region. Towards this end, the Ministers welcomed the Energy Market Integration Work Plan 2012, which aims to address impediments to the efficient functioning of markets by focusing on activities to (i) enhance energy infrastructure and (ii) facilitate greater energy trade and investment across the region. The Ministers also noted the outcomes of ERIA’s report on Energy Market Integration, which highlighted the need to further strengthen and expedite market integration efforts, given factors such as the Asian premium oil prices, the need for competitive energy markets and pricing, and the benefits of energy access for economic growth.

6. In order to enhance EAS energy cooperation, the Ministers noted that sharing medium-to-long term outlooks for energy demand is important, given the relatively large increase in energy demand in the region, the negative impact of the situation in the Middle East and North Africa, high crude oil prices, and the earthquake, Tsunami, disasters and nuclear accidents in Japan. In this regard, the Ministers encouraged a close cooperation with international organisations such as International Energy Agency (IEA), in this work.

7. In addition to the ongoing cooperation under the existing three main Work Streams of the EAS Energy Cooperation Task Force, namely energy efficiency, market integration and biofuels for transport, the Ministers shared the view that going forward cooperation amongst EAS participating countries would benefit from an increased focus on the following areas: (i) charting outlook for energy demand and saving potential over the medium-to-long term; (ii) coordinating emergency response policies and measures; (iii) enhancing the use of existing fossil fuel resources in the region; (iv) improving electric power infrastructure, including nuclear power generation; and (v) developing clean energy and smart communities for efficient use of energy in the region. To initiate the cooperation, the Ministers agreed to commence research studies in these areas to be undertaken by Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia (ERIA) with support from Japan.

8. Acknowledging the close correlation between energy and climate changes, the Ministers reiterated their commitment to actively contribute to global measures to cope with climate change issues. As part of such measures, the Ministers noted the use of new market-based mechanisms, including bilateral initiatives, to reduce greenhouse gas emissions on a global scale through diffusion of low carbon technologies, products and services. The Ministers also encouraged cooperation between EAS countries and the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) economies in the areas of mass transportation and other demand side energy management issues towards reducing energy intensity in the transportation sector as the transportation accounts for a substantial share of total energy use and greenhouse gas emissions.

9. The Ministers appreciated ERIA’s support on the various work streams of the East Asia Summit (EAS) Energy cooperation Task Force (ECTF), and agreed to continue ongoing cooperation with ERIA for research studies on relevant issues. Inputs and policy recommendations from ERIA on the EAS energy cooperation, as stated in the paragraph 7, would be welcomed as material for continued policy discussions at the ministerial meetings from next year on.

10. The Meeting welcomed the participation of Russia and the United States in the EAS Energy Cooperation, which will greatly contribute to and provide additional opportunities in the promotion of the EAS energy agenda and priorities.

In this regard, the EAS will foster collaboration and partnership for mutual benefits and, at the same time, avoid the emergence of fault lines in the region.

6. We recognized the value of the EAS in maintaining and enhancing peace, stability and prosperity in the region. We reaffirmed, therefore, norms and principles such as those enshrined in the UN Charter and Treaty of Amity and Cooperation (TAC) in order to maintain peace, stability, and promote prosperity in the region. We adopted the “Declaration of the East Asia Summit on the Principles for Mutually Beneficial Relations” known as “the Bali Principles”.

7. We noted that the East Asia region continues to face challenges that are multifaceted, multidimensional and interlinked, and consequently, they require our collective resolve to address them. We recognized the prevalence of various traditional and non-traditional security challenges, and at the same time committed to seizing available opportunities.

8. We shared views on other strategic areas of cooperation political and economic issues such as economic integration, including CEPEA and the ASEAN Framework for Regional Economic Partnership, and underscored our determination to promote a resilient and competitive region in order to prevent negative impacts of global economic crises, as well as cooperation on non-traditional security issues, maritime issues, non-proliferation and disarmament, counterterrorism, illegal logging, and transnational crimes including peoples smuggling, money laundering, and drugs trafficking.

We exchanged views on various issues of common interest and concern including the five priority areas, namely: energy, finance, disaster management, education and avian flu prevention/global health issues and pandemic diseases. We welcomed the important steps taken by G20 leaders earlier this month to address risks to the global economy, and the resolution by APEC leaders in Honolulu to support strong, sustained and balanced growth both regionally and globally. We supported the Cannes Action Plan for Growth and Jobs, which outlines the role all countries can play in ensuring the stability of the global economy and financial system, and in particular the need for macroeconomic policies to support recovery and strengthen the foundations for growth and jobs.

We recognized the constructive role of the EAS, as a key regional forum bringing together the world’s most dynamic economies, in support of promoting sustained economic growth at the regional and global levels. We are committed to enhance coordination and cooperation, in close collaboration with the regional and international financial institutions, including the Asian Development Bank.
Disaster Management
19. We recognized that the East Asia region is prone to natural disasters and its impact to socio-economy and livelihood of the people. We also noted the importance of strong collaborative efforts at all levels to allow for the most rapid, effective and efficient disaster response. We reaffirmed our determination to continue working together in disaster management, particularly with a view to enhance regional rapid response capabilities and humanitarian assistance. In light of the above, we noted with satisfaction the substantial outcomes of the first Informal East Asia Summit (EAS) Education Ministers Meeting, which was convened in Bali, Indonesia on 18 July 2011. The meeting has set a platform to further develop education cooperation among the EAS participating countries. We welcomed the plan to convene the EAS Education Ministers Meeting (EMM) on a biennial basis commencing in 2012 and to develop an EAS Education Cooperation Action Plan. The Action Plan will provide direction and momentum to education cooperation and promote a more comprehensive cooperation based on the principle of unity in diversity. 33. We recognized the fundamental contribution of international trade to global prosperity and sustainable development. We acknowledged the important role of the World Trade Organization in promoting open markets. In this connection, we highlight the necessity to promote better progress toward the ultimate conclusion of the Doha Development Agenda. We also welcomed the decision of the APEC leaders’ meeting in Honolulu last week to take concrete actions to strengthen regional economic integration and expand trade, promote green growth, and advance regulatory convergence and cooperation.

In this regard, we renew our commitment to avoid protectionism in accordance with the commitment made in G20 and APEC.

global financial crisis, food and energy crisis

Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), Sustainable Development, Climate Change and Global Financial Crisis, Food and Energy Crisis

8. While noting with satisfaction that ASEAN Member States are on track to attaining many of the MDGs, the Summit underlined as a matter of priority to prevent the reverse impact of the global financial and economic crises on the commitment to the attainments of the MDGs by 2015. In this context, the United Nations reiterated its support for the implementation of the ASEAN Roadmap for the Attainment of the MDGs. ASEAN - APEC

ASEAN Statement at the APEC Ministers Responsible for Trade Meeting
Montana, United States, 19-20 May 2011

The Secretary-General of ASEAN would like to convey his appreciation to the United States of America for giving the ASEAN Secretariat an opportunity to update the APEC Ministers Responsible for Trade on the latest developments in ASEAN with the recently concluded 18th ASEAN Summit in Jakarta, Indonesia.

Under the Chairmanship of Indonesia this year, which has for its theme “ASEAN Community in a Global Community of Nations”, the following three priorities have been outlined: (i) ensuring significant progress in achieving the ASEAN Community; (ii) ensuring that the regional architecture and regional environment remain ASEAN-centered; and (iii) commencing deliberation on an ASEAN vision beyond 2015.

Realizing the AEC by 2015

Despite the regional and global challenges, implementation of the AEC Blueprint continues to be on track showing good progress in ASEAN’s phased implementation of the measures in realizing the AEC by the year 2015. The liberalization of trade in goods and services under the ASEAN Trade in Goods Agreement (ATIGA) and the ASEAN Framework Agreement on Services (AFAS) continue to be on track in transforming ASEAN into a single market and production base. Member States remain committed to exerting maximum effort and ensuring the timely implementation of the measures in the AEC Blueprint, especially in addressing impediments that include coordination at the national and regional levels. In order to strengthen regional monitoring capacity, the ASEAN Integration Monitoring Office has been established to assist the ASEAN Secretariat and Member States in monitoring the progress of the AEC.

Significant developments have taken place in the first, second and fourth pillars of the AEC, i.e. the single market and production base, a competitive economic region and integration into the global economy, respectively. Noting the lag in the third pillar, which is on equitable economic development comprising development of Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) and narrowing the development gap both within and between ASEAN Member States, the Economic Ministers have given additional emphasis on this pillar. They have recognized SMEs as an important segment of the economy and therefore the need to bring them into the mainstream of regional integration by giving them access to technology, financing and markets. It is also recognized that narrowing the development gap is crucial to achieving a more balanced, inclusive and sustained ASEAN Community. In line with the renewed focus on SME development and narrowing development gap, a framework or a set of guiding principles for equitable economic development in ASEAN, including sustainable high-impact targets, would be develop within this year.

Several strategic action plans have been put in place to provide the necessary infrastructure for AEC building. The ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan (2011-2015), the ASEAN Strategic Transport Plan (2011-2015) and the ASEAN ICT Master Plan 2015 also contribute to the enhancement of regional connectivity consistent with the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity. The last Summit reaffirmed Member States’ commitment to enhance regional connectivity not only to link the archipelagic Member States with mainland ASEAN but also to expand connectivity to the East Asia region and beyond.

Global Economic Development and Challenges
ASEAN is confident that economic growth within the community will settle at more sustainable levels this year between 5.7 percent and 6.4 percent. Despite ASEAN’s economic resilience, risks still remain. The surge in capital flows and emerging inflationary pressures combined with strong commodity price volatility in the region pose challenges to ASEAN’s economic resilience. The Leaders of ASEAN therefore also emphasized the need for stronger regional coordination and cooperation to address global challenges that affect not only food and energy security but also to sustain economic recovery. With the recent establishment of the ASEAN Integrated Food Security Framework and the ASEAN Plus Three Emergency Rice Reserve that would be in place later this year, the thrust of regional cooperation would now be on addressing the challenges brought about by high commodity prices and food price volatility. The Economic Ministers also noted the importance in addressing macroeconomic issues not only at the national level but also through coordination and cooperation at the regional level. The ASEAN Plus Three Macro Economic Regional Surveillance Office (AMRO) in Singapore is expected to play a critical role in strengthening macroeconomic coordination and financial cooperation at the regional level.

Evolving Regional Architecture
ASEAN is determined to play the central role in the emerging regional architecture using the ASEAN Plus One FTAs as building blocks. Current efforts are therefore geared towards determining how best these FTAs could be consolidated, identifying possible gaps and recommending the best possible modality for a deeper and broader FTA, taking into account the recommendations made in the Studies on the East Asia Free Trade Area (EAFTA) and the Comprehensive Economic Partnership in East Asia (CEPEA).

ASEAN’s Leaders have time and again emphasized the mutually reinforcing roles of the ASEAN Plus One, ASEAN Plus Three (China, Japan and Korea) and the East Asia Summit (EAS) in an ASEAN-driven regional economic architecture. The Russian Federation and the United States will be participating at the EAS starting at the 6th EAS scheduled in Bali in November 2011. With the enlargement of the EAS, Leaders were confident of the contribution of the EAS to the promotion and maintenance of a stable and peaceful environment in the region. The EAS shall therefore continue to be a forum for Leaders-led discussion on traditional and non-traditional security threats. Strategic geo-political issues of common interest shall also be deliberated alongside the five existing EAS priority areas (i.e. energy, finance, disaster management, education and avian flu prevention), and ASEAN Connectivity.

Post-2015 Vision for ASEAN

The Indonesian Chairmanship has prompted discussions on a vision for ASEAN beyond the ASEAN Community 2015. The regional landscape is rapidly changing, therefore, for the ASEAN Economic Community to remain relevant, Member States need to start thinking on how economic integration could be further deepened and broadened not only among the Member States but also between ASEAN and its FTA partners. Further, ASEAN will need to ascertain what form or path it will take beyond 2015.

ASEAN and APEC

ASEAN and APEC share the same end-goals, though the approach may be different, e.g. to integrate the economies of their respective membership. ASEAN may have been more successful in integration efforts and in achieving its trade liberalization goals but could learn from APEC in pursuing initiatives that would support an open market. Structural reforms and trade facilitation initiatives, such as the Single Window, Self-Certification, and SME development are some of the areas that ASEAN could benefit from the experiences of APEC, with the mutual sharing of experiences defining the synergies between ASEAN and APEC. With seven of the ten ASEAN members in APEC and with almost all of the economies participating in the EAS in APEC, ASEAN and APEC just have to mutually reinforce each other towards the achievement of their respective goals and the realization of their respective economic integration objectives. The ASEAN Secretariat stands ready to collaborate with the APEC Secretariat for our mutual benefit and in building a stronger Asia Pacific region.
